Angry Marine In Viet Nam Pens Note To Wife

MOLINE, Ill. (AP) — An angry young Marine lieutenant fighting in Viet Nam said today he has "begun to develop a hatred for some of you" antiwar demonstrators.

"I am speaking to those of you who carry idiotic placards denouncing our stand in Viet Nam and march in circles that closely resemble your pattern of thinking," wrote Lt. Ward S. Johnson.

"And I am speaking to you 'intellectuals,' college students and professors, who undermine our efforts with your teach-ins. And I am speaking to those of you who have called the Marines in Viet Nam animal butchers and killers of women and children."

Johnson, 24, wrote to his wife, Stephanie, and asked that she offer the letter to their hometown newspaper, the Moline Daily Dispatch. The newspaper printed the letter today.

The lieutenant suggested that "you do not offer your remarks" about butchers and killers of women and children "directly to a Marine who has returned home from Viet Nam."

"I'm sure that he will have a broad grin of satisfaction on his face when he appears in court to answer to charges of assault and battery."

He said a "feeling inside of me has nearly reached the boiling point for another group of you — the ever-increasing group of American youths that practices the art of draft dodging."

Johnson criticized hurry-up marriages to beat draft deadlines, adding, "I'll bet you're real proud of yourselves," in a direct reference to young men.

He described conditions in Viet Nam as filthy and said the "countryside is teeming with rats every bit as large as our corn-fed Midwest variety."

His platoon "of war babies and high school dropouts" fighting in the Chu Lai area since May has been "tremendous."

A University of Illinois graduate who enlisted in the Marine Corps, Johnson directed another portion of his letter to "the rest of you Americans" who are only observers of the antiwar demonstrations.

"Doesn't that group of babbling nitwits that denounce our stand in Viet Nam arouse your anger?

"How in the hell can you permit the voices of a few thousand to be heard above your millions?

"When are your demonstrations and teach-ins being held?"

Johnson's wife is staying with their son, Gregory, 8 months, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Johnson. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Sheets, live in Scottsdale, Ariz.

Says God, Country Should Be Before Any Of Klan Vows

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Goldboro, N.C., Ku Klux Klansman resigned from the Klan today in a congressional witness chair, saying he believed God and his country should come before any Klan vows.

Joseph G. DuBois, a used car salesman who said he was treasurer of the Goldsboro Klan Klavern, turned over records [illegible] documents of his unit to the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The committee, which is making a general investigation of the Klan, had subpoenaed the records.

In earlier sessions this week of the investigation, higher leaders of the Klan had refused to turn over any records or answer any questions.

Thursday, the imperial wizard of the Klan put on a white cowboy hat and with his security guards clearing a path through the crowd of newsmen, stepped jauntily into the glare of the camera lights.

"You don't see me worried, do you?" said Robert M. Shelton, the beleaguered No. 1 man in the United Klans of America.

Standing just outside the door of the House hearing room, Shelton read a statement denouncing the congressional probe of the Klan as an "inquisition" loaded with "When did you stop beating your wife" questions.

Paradoxically, the phrases were an echo of those made by witnesses grilled for alleged Communist connections by the same House Committee on Un-American Activities.

But Shelton, who has denounced "Fifth Amendment Communists," denied he was a "Fifth Amendment Klansman."

He said he was protecting lib-

Reds Batter Viet Camp In New Attack

Eight Americans Killed In Crashes Of 2 Helicopters

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong made another strong attack on the beleaguered Special Forces camp at Plei Me today, but the fighting died down again late in the day, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

The Communist guerrillas shot down a U.S. Air Force Skyraider, but the pilot was rescued, the spokesman said. Eight Americans were killed in two helicopter crashes in the area Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Viet Cong battered the Plei Me garrison 210 miles northeast of Saigon with mortars, automatic weapons and small arms. A Vietnamese ranger unit fought its way into the camp shortly after dawn to bolster the tough mountain tribesmen who have kept the guerrillas at bay for three days.

U.S. jets pounded the guerrillas around the camp continuously.

About 500 Viet Cong launched the attack at Plei Me early Wednesday. The camp then was defended by about 300 Montagnard tribesmen and 10 or 12 American advisers.

U.S. helicopters lifted several companies of Vietnamese in Thursday, and U.S. authorities said it appeared the Communist offensive had been blunted.

But latest reports said the Viet Cong remained in positions around the camp in heavy strength and were massing large concentrations of weapons.

U.S. advisers in the camp reported seeing at least 90 enemy bodies in the barbed wire around the camp and on the ground beyond. U.S. officials said the garrison had suffered light casualties.

The Communists began a new heavy barrage early today, and U.S. planes also drew heavy fire.

"It was a pretty hot night," said Capt. Bill Wittenberg, Kansas City, Kan., who flew over the area dropping flares.

Wittenberg reported the camp was under fire from all directions although American planes

Morrissey's Bill Dead For This Session

White House Says Johnson Will Not Withdraw Name

WASHINGTON (AP) — Francis X. Morrissey's nomination to be a federal judge is dead for this session of Congress, but the White House says President Johnson has no plan to withdraw it.

Still, after Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., electrified the Senate Thursday by moving to send the nomination back to the Judiciary Committee, some senators said they would be surprised if Johnson resubmits it next year. Kennedy is chief sponsor of the Morrissey nomination.

After Congress quits for this year, the President can give Morrissey a recess appointment. The Senate would have to pass on the nomination next year, though, and Morrissey would have to resign his $20,000-a-year post as a Boston Municipal Court judge with no certainty he would be approved.

In an emotional speech asking that the nomination be returned to committee, Kennedy said its compilation of "a full and complete record" on Morrissey will result in his confirmation.

And, Kennedy said of the old friend of the Kennedy family, "He will be a credit to the federal judiciary."

But, there was widespread feeling backstage at the Senate that Morrissey's nomination for the U.S. District Court in Massachusetts may be dead forever.

Johnson nominated Morrissey largely on Kennedy's strong recommendation.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers told newsmen Kennedy had informed the President Wednesday night it seemed best to have the nomination returned to committee.

"The President told him," Moyers said, "he himself was very much behind Morrissey's nomination or he wouldn't have submitted it, but it was a Senate matter and he would abide by the senator's judgment."

At another meeting with newsmen later, Moyers was asked if Johnson plans to with-

In St. Clair Township

Plans Advanced On Sale Of Water

If all the pieces in a complicated pattern fall into place by Nov. 1, Council will be able to enact legislation authorizing the Board of Public Utilities to sell city water to a new county authority which in turn will distribute it in St. Clair Township—primarily to Glenmoor and Calcutta.

That decision emerged Thursday night in a 90-minute meeting at City Hall by members of Council, the county commissioners and the utilities board, the municipal agency which administers the water and sewage systems.

WITH COUNCIL indicating a willingness to sell the water and the commissioners expressing anxiety at delays that have slowed their timetable for starting construction of standpipes and distribution lines, the primary unsolved problem boils down to this:

What changes will be necessary in the city's distribution system — now and in the future — to deliver the large quantities of water and how much will they cost?

Last night's meeting was another chapter in discussions that opened between Council and the commissioners Sept. 7. Council must grant legislative authority before the utilities board can enter into a contract to sell the water to the new St. Clair district.

Attending were Councilmen Robert W. Sample, James Cunningham, Norman Bucher and William Rea; Commissioners R. Max Gard and James Boyd; W. O. Schneider, F. J. Cioran and Howard Moore of the utilities board and Donald Duke, superintendent, Mayor George E. Willshaw, Engineer George Bloomgren and Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper.

AS THE discussion opened, Duke raised the question of modifications that might have to be made in the city's distribution system in order to deliver the water to the end of the present lines, where it would be taken over by the new utility district.

The county plan contemplates that standpipes will be built on an Oakmont hill, near the present end of the St. Clair Ave. water line, and on Substation Rd. at Glenmoor. A 12 - inch line will run from the Oakmont standpipe to Calcutta, then across Substation Rd. to the Glenmoor area and the second standpipe. The distribution lines will run off the 12-inch main and standpipes.

Bloomgren reiterated an estimate made at the September meeting — that within five years the new authority expects to have about 700 customers using approximately 280,000 gallons of water a day.

The last census showed that the Glenmoor - Calcutta area had grown to the size of a small

Wife Serious

Area Man Killed As Car, Truck Hit

A New Brighton Township man was killed instantly and his wife is in serious condition after a car-truck collision on Pennsylvania Route 588 in North Sewickley Township Thursday.

Pronounced dead at the scene of the accident, four miles east of Beaver Falls, by Beaver County Coroner John W. Colavincenzo was Oliver L. Goehring, 53, of New Brighton Township R. D. 2.

Goehring's wife Isabel was taken to Presbyterian Hospital in Pittsburgh. She is in critical condition with a fractured skull and multiple fractures.

William L. VanKirk, 25, of New Galilee, Pa., operator of a truck owned by the Diamond Milling Co. of New Brighton, escaped injury.

The accident occurred at 2:45 p.m. when the westbound Goehring auto collided with the eastbound VanKirk truck on the crest of a hill.

Road Beauty Bill Due OK By Johnson

President Returns To White House For Recuperation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Convalescing President Johnson, back home at the White House, signs today the highway beautification bill passed by the House on the eve of his gall bladder operation.

Many of those who helped get the bill through — his wife Lady Bird, congressmen, conservationists and garden clubbers — were invited to the afternoon ceremony in the East Room.

The President had made this his last item of business before his surgery Oct. 8, and he made it his first official ceremonial act on his return to the White House.

Facing four to six weeks of recuperation, Johnson was easing back to work — with the possibility of a lengthy Texas ranch stay while he regains his strength.

"He would like to go to Texas," White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers reported, but announced no plans.

Coming home Thursday — after two weeks in Bethesda Naval Hospital — the President conducted afternoon conferences on international affairs with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler from his bed.

'Space Twins' Given Major Medical Test

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Gemini 6 astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Thomas P. Stafford get their last major medical checkup today before Monday's planned high-speed chase after a fleeting target in space.

The weather report for the flight remains satisfactory.

Schirra, a Navy captain, and Stafford, an Air Force major, spent most of the time in a flight simulator Thursday — sharpening up for the attempt to find and dock with the orbiting Agena rocket.

That's the main objective of the one or two-day flight that will blast off Monday at 11:41 a.m. EST — an hour and 41 minutes after the target rocket is sent aloft.

Thursday night, the astronauts spent about an hour after dinner making a final check of cockpit and camera equipment. Besides taking movies of their rendezvous and docking, they also will photograph special land and cloud features.

It was dusk before the worldwide tracking network that will monitor Monday's flight fell silent — after a daylong communications checkout Thursday. The Gemini astronauts joined in the rehearsal.

Gemini program director Charles Matthews said he would consider the flight successful if only one of four hookup attempts was successful.

False Reports Alleged

Car Theft Case Dropped; Owner, Friend Arrested

What started out a week ago as a federal auto theft charge wound up today in Municipal Court as an anti-climax when the alleged thief was jailed on a charge of resisting arrest and the car's owner was arraigned on a charge of making a false and misleading report to the East Liverpool police department.

Frank K. Boyd, 21, of 1940 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext. had been jailed Oct. 15 on the auto theft charge on the strength of a report filed by Mrs. Juanita Belle Ferrebee of E. 3rd St.

But when Boyd was taken to Beaver County to be referred to federal agents for prosecution under the U.S. auto theft statute, Mrs. Ferrebee declined to prosecute and explained that Boyd was her friend.

That led Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes to file charges in the local court alleging that Boyd "knowingly and wilfully" resisted a police officer when he fled from the local patrolman a week ago. And Mrs. Ferrebee was charged with "giving a false and fictitious report to the police department, with the intent to mislead and improperly summon" an officer on an investigation.

Boyd was sentenced to 30 days in County Jail when he pleaded guilty to the charge of resisting Hayes.

Mrs. Ferrebee first pleaded "no contest," but then said she did not understand the import of the plea. Chertoff entered a "not guilty" plea on her behalf and set a hearing for Oct. 29. He advised Mrs. Ferrebee that conviction on the charge would lead to a fine of $1,000 and a year's jail term. He set her appearance bond at $500.

Hayes testified in Boyd's case this morning. Boyd told the court: "I got scared and ran" when the officer halted him in East End and advised him he was accused of auto theft.

It all began Oct. 22 at 6:18 p.m. when Mrs. Ferrebee reported her 1960 auto had been stolen from W. 2nd St. Five minutes later, the patrolman spotted the allegedly stolen car in East End. He testified that he halted Boyd at Dewey and Pennsylvania Aves. and advised him he was under arrest for suspicion of auto theft.

Boyd abandoned the car and

Hammondsville Man 'Fair' After Mine Fire

A Hammondsville man overcome by smoke in a mine fire near Bergholz was in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital.

Gary Householder, 24, an employe of the Tunnel Hill Coal Co. mine between Hammondsville and Bergholz, suffered from smoke inhalation after he and other workers extinguished the blaze in a cable inside the mine shortly before noon Thursday.

Householder and the others had to walk through some 500 feet of shaft filled with smoke to leave the mine. There was no extensive damage from the blaze, a witness said.

Hills Official Charges 2 Stores On Sunday Sales

The manager of Hills Brothers Department Store, himself facing a charge of violating the Ohio Sunday sales law, has filed a complaint against a St. Clair Ave. grocery and a Calcutta pharmacy for similar violations.

The Columbiana County prosecutor's office Thursday filed charges against Joe Gallo, operator of Gallo's Grocery of 2810 St. Clair Ave., and against C. Lester Saltsman, operator of Saltsman's Pharmacy of Calcutta.

The charges, based on complaints by Ernest Fannin, were filed in County Judge Herbert Arfman's court at East Palestine.

Fannin, manager of Hill's store at Calcutta, has been cited for Sunday sales, while five of the clerks at Hills have been charged with undertaking transactions Sunday.

Fannin yesterday pleaded not guilty before Judge Arfman. His trial was set for next Thursday.

Hearings had been scheduled for four clerks cited last Sunday, but the summons had not been served by yesterday, so those hearings were continued until Thursday.

A motion to dismiss a charge against Marjorie Robinson of E. 4th St., another clerk cited Oct. 10, was rejected yesterday by Arfman and her trial was set for next Thursday.

Hearings for Gallo and Saltsman also are slated Thursday.

Thursday, the imperial wizard of the Klan put on a white cowboy hat and with his security guards clearing a path through the crowd of newsmen, stepped jauntily into the glare of the camera lights.

"You don't see me worried, do you?" said Robert M. Shelton, the beleaguered No. 1 man in the United Klans of America.

Standing just outside the door of the House hearing room, Shelton read a statement denouncing the congressional probe of the Klan as an "inquisition" loaded with "When did you stop beating your wife" questions.

Paradoxically, the phrases were an echo of those made by witnesses grilled for alleged Communist connections by the same House Committee on Un-American Activities.

But Shelton, who has denounced "Fifth Amendment Communists," denied he was a "Fifth Amendment Klansman."

He said he was protecting lib-

Wife Serious

Area Man Killed As Car, Truck Hit

A New Brighton Township man was killed instantly and his wife is in serious condition after a car-truck collision on Pennsylvania Route 588 in North Sewickley Township Thursday.

Pronounced dead at the scene of the accident, four miles east of Beaver Falls, by Beaver County Coroner John W. Colavincenzo was Oliver L. Goehring, 53, of New Brighton Township R. D. 2.

Goehring's wife Isabel was taken to Presbyterian Hospital in Pittsburgh. She is in critical condition with a fractured skull and multiple fractures.

William L. VanKirk, 25, of New Galilee, Pa., operator of a truck owned by the Diamond Milling Co. of New Brighton, escaped injury.

The accident occurred at 2:45 p.m. when the westbound Goehring auto collided with the eastbound VanKirk truck on the crest of a hill.

Hills Official Charges 2 Stores On Sunday Sales

The manager of Hills Brothers Department Store, himself facing a charge of violating the Ohio Sunday sales law, has filed a complaint against a St. Clair Ave. grocery and a Calcutta pharmacy for similar violations.

The Columbiana County prosecutor's office Thursday filed charges against Joe Gallo, operator of Gallo's Grocery of 2810 St. Clair Ave., and against C. Lester Saltsman, operator of Saltsman's Pharmacy of Calcutta.

The charges, based on complaints by Ernest Fannin, were filed in County Judge Herbert Arfman's court at East Palestine.

Fannin, manager of Hill's store at Calcutta, has been cited for Sunday sales, while five of the clerks at Hills have been charged with undertaking transactions Sunday.

Fannin yesterday pleaded not guilty before Judge Arfman. His trial was set for next Thursday.

Hearings had been scheduled for four clerks cited last Sunday, but the summons had not been served by yesterday, so those hearings were continued until Thursday.

A motion to dismiss a charge against Marjorie Robinson of E. 4th St., another clerk cited Oct. 10, was rejected yesterday by Arfman and her trial was set for next Thursday.

Hearings for Gallo and Saltsman also are slated Thursday.

Road Beauty Bill Due OK By Johnson

President Returns To White House For Recuperation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Convalescing President Johnson, back home at the White House, signs today the highway beautification bill passed by the House on the eve of his gall bladder operation.

Many of those who helped get the bill through — his wife Lady Bird, congressmen, conservationists and garden clubbers — were invited to the afternoon ceremony in the East Room.

The President had made this his last item of business before his surgery Oct. 8, and he made it his first official ceremonial act on his return to the White House.

Facing four to six weeks of recuperation, Johnson was easing back to work — with the possibility of a lengthy Texas ranch stay while he regains his strength.

"He would like to go to Texas," White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers reported, but announced no plans.

Coming home Thursday — after two weeks in Bethesda Naval Hospital — the President conducted afternoon conferences on international affairs with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler from his bed.

His chief surgeon, Dr. George C. Hallenbeck of the Mayo Clin-

'Space Twins' Given Major Medical Test

The weather report for the flight remains satisfactory.

Schirra, a Navy captain, and Stafford, an Air Force major, spent most of the time in a flight simulator Thursday — sharpening up for the attempt to find and dock with the orbiting Agena rocket.

That's the main objective of the one or two-day flight that will blast off Monday at 11:41 a.m. EST — an hour and 41 minutes after the target rocket is sent aloft.

Thursday night, the astronauts spent about an hour after dinner making a final check of cockpit and camera equipment. Besides taking movies of their rendezvous and docking, they also will photograph special land and cloud features.

It was dusk before the worldwide tracking network that will monitor Monday's flight fell silent — after a daylong communications checkout Thursday. The Gemini astronauts joined in the rehearsal.

Gemini program director Charles Matthews said he would consider the flight successful if only one of four hookup attempts was successful.

Girl Reported Kidnaped In 1961 Has Been Found

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — Blonde, blue-eyed Linda Lee Ridings, 6, reported kidnaped in 1961, has been found — after sharing the hard life of a migratory farm worker for four years.

Linda, a bright and cheerful girl, was found living with Ramona Doughtery, 41, a full-blooded Indian. Miss Doughtery was booked on suspicion of kidnaping.

Police detective Clarence Boyd said, "She said at first the child was given to her. Then she admitted taking her." Boyd quoted her as saying: "Yes, I kidnaped her as a baby and took her to Oklahoma."

Boyd said police have been unable to locate Linda's mother, Barbara Ridings, 25, who moved from her last-known address in Los Angeles six months ago.

Investigators said Linda was first taken to Oklahoma City, where Miss Doughtery was born. They joined the farm labor circuit, traveling through the Midwest.

Los Angeles Police Department records show that Mrs. Ridings reported the child missing in June 1961. She told police Linda and Miss Doughtery, the child's babysitter since birth, disappeared the previous March, while she was on a trip to Florida.

The records also showed that Mrs. Ridings was separated from her husband, Hubert, and that she had told police Miss Doughtery had wanted to adopt Linda herself and have her baptized.

Linda came to police attention on Oct. 14, when officer Woody Williams stopped to question a man sitting with Linda in a parked car.

The man, Wilfred Leroy Green, 37, Santa Ana, was booked on Oct. 18 on suspicion of child molesting and released on $550 bond. He was ordered to appear in court on Nov. 2.

Officers said they became suspicious when Miss Doughtery insisted Linda was her daughter. Miss Doughtery and Linda were living with Green and his wife, so officers took Linda into protective custody Tuesday.

Union Promises Help For Potters In Plant Closing

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters pledged today it will help in locating new jobs for about 600 of its members idled by the recent closing of the Lincoln China Co. plant at Lincoln, Ill.

Charles F. Jordan, international secretary - treasurer, has gone to Lincoln to assure that all the workers' rights are protected under the contract between the firm and the IBOP, the union said. The union urged all former Lincoln China employes to forward their names, addresses and trades to Jordan at IBOP headquarters to expedite attempts to find them jobs in other ceramic plants.

The Lincoln potters are members of IBOP Local 116, chartered April 19, 1923. The union said the plant has a capacity of 1,000 to 1,200 production workers, but has been working with about 600 in the last few years.

The union said the cause of the closing has not been made clear, but it added that the company and the IBOP have "been in cordial working relationship for many years" and the workers were paid "wages and fringes comparable with any plant in the whiteware industry."

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Parents Should Check School Progress

It may be a good time to take stock of your child in school. You and Dad might profitably consider by the evidence how your child is doing in his schoolwork. He may have dropped in his casual remarks in the family a great deal of information. As he saw your interest in his schoolwork he may have tried to tell you much about it. You may have seen some of his returned school papers or some special report from school.

Dr. Garry Myers

You may have run across his teacher at the market, on the street or at the PTA when you got some information about your child at school. Or you may have had a brief conference with his teacher at school.

As you and Dad take stock you will consider the child's physical and mental health. You note his emotional experiences, how even or explosive they are, whether he has many worries, anxieties, fears and angers; how well he is getting along with others in the family and with other children outside the family.

YOU NOTE how he spends his spare time and how much of it is outdoors during good weather and how much in front of a TV set — how much wholesome recreation he has.

You parents consider also how well and comfortably your school child conforms to desirable family regulations and if there should be any changes in them. If your child has homework, you observe how good his habits are of going at it and how efficient his methods of home study are.

The further along in the grades your child is the more you should be concerned that he has learned to read well. Nothing else may so hamper his school progress in all his studies as poor skill at reading.

Finding that your child in the third, sixth, or tenth grade reads his regular school assignments with difficulty, your first aim should be to find ways of helping him improve in reading skill. You can't hope to do so all at once; it may require months and years.

UNLESS you are able to be very calm and patient as you yourself try to help this poor reader, you should look for a tutor to work with him daily, or for a reading clinic.

Expect to find such a program costly in time and money. No doubt you can afford to cut on the family budget elsewhere. Just see what precious stocks you would be investing in. They promise high dividends to your child, for his future success and for your own personal satisfaction.

If your child entered the first grade last September, you will be especially eager to know how he is getting along at school learning. If he has learned to read some from a primer or first reader, he may want to show you and others at home how well he can read.

If his teacher does not let him bring home his school reader, you may find some interesting books as easy as his school primer from which he can read. Suppose he has not yet learned to read at all. Suppose his teacher tells you he is not yet ready to read or that most of the children of his class are not.

DESPITE your private disagreement on this point, you should not argue with the teacher. She is doing what she is sure is the right way.

If your child in the first grade has not yet been taught to read you might wisely do as follows: read to him aloud several times a day from beautifully illustrated books he will enjoy, books you find at a good bookstore or borrow from the library. If he wants to know what a word or group of words on the page say, tell him.

Call to his attention signs on the street, in stores and other places; also to names printed on food packages.

You might wisely follow some of the suggestions in my special bulletin, "Helping Child at Home in Early Steps of Reading," which may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review. For parents of children who can read some, my "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling, Arithmetic and Handwriting," available in like manner, might prove helpful.

2 Tiffin Men Killed When Truck Explodes

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—Two Tiffin men were killed Thursday when a well - drilling truck touched high tension lines and exploded.

The Seneca County Coroner ruled the men, Mervin D. Lawrence, 38, and Walter Yoakum, 52, were electrocuted.

Lawrence was setting up the drilling rig on the Yoakum farm when the truck apparently rolled backward into the power lines.

Sheriff's deputies said Lawrence was on the truck and Yoakum was on a ladder cutting some limbs from a tree when the accident occurred.

Witnesses said there was a violent explosion when the truck touched the lines. Both front tires of the truck were blown off by the force of the blast.

Sheriff's deputies said Lawrence was on the truck and Yoakum was on a ladder cutting some limbs from a tree when the accident occurred.

Witnesses said there was a violent explosion when the truck touched the lines. Both front tires of the truck were blown off by the force of the blast.

'Fools' Seems The More Proper Word

Confusion is being added to confusion by careless use of "traitor" and treason" to express disapproval of foolish acts by some of the nation's addled picketeers and demonstrators.

Article II, Section 3 of the U.S. Constitution defines treason:

"1. Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession given in open court.

"2. The Congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood or forfeiture except during the life of the person attained."

The framers of the Constitution knew the hazard of leveling the charge of treason. They paid particular attention to its further misuse of the term in the light of their own experiences while seeking redress of their wrongs from the British crown.

Their posterity has been scrupulous throughout succeeding generations about leveling accusations of treason.

THEY HAVE honored the principle that treason must always be an overt act; that it cannot consist of anything less than levying war against the United States, of adhering to the enemies of the United States, of giving aid and comfort to the enemies of the United States.

It takes a far stretch of imagination to believe that addle-brained gestures of a few over-excited and underdeveloped demonstrators scattered widely over the United States have constituted aid and comfort to any enemy of this country.

Among other things that should be considered in this connection is the fact the United States is not at war. That is one of the sources of confusion among the semi-professional "aginners" currently are waving banners and burning draft cards.

These people are irritating. They are baffling.

They are causing Americans to wonder what went wrong to produce all these hairy ideas, beards, bare feet and blind rebellion.

But these people are not traitors. They are not committing treason with their badly printed signs and their scrambled fulminations.

THEY ARE making fools of themselves. They are on the verge sometimes of making a travesty of the right of free speech that permits Americans to make fools of themselves.

But "traitor" and "treason" have no proper application to them and their behavior.

It would make as much sense to call Chicken Little a meteorologist for announcing that the sky was falling.

A Lot Of Pickin'

To one who does little more than knock out a few nouns, verbs, adverbs, etc., on a typewriter, and drop in a period and comma, here and there, that was an amazing feat performed this week on a county farm.

Moses J. Byler, a member of the Amish faith, picked 273 bushels of apples in one day smashing an earlier record he had established in 1962.

Byler is a champion in his own right, deserving of recognition. That's a cotton-pickin' lot of apple-pickin'!

Let Everybody Take It Easy

President Johnson is back in the White House under doctor's orders to take it easy for four to six weeks.

It is unthinkable he could have planned it this way. But if he had been able to look ahead to gall-bladder surgery, the adjournment of Congress and the rounding out of his second year in the presidency, he couldn't have timed his convalescence better.

This is on the assumption he will follow his doctor's orders and literally take it easy until December. "Taking it easy" for the man who bears presidential responsibility does not denote indolence and apathy, after all. There will be enough provocations and aggravations beyond White House control to keep Mr. Johnson occupied.

He could avoid adding to them needlessly on his own initiative.

CONGRESS has given him most everything he desired—a little more in some instances than he asked for, as in the beefing up of spending plans for higher education.

He has left his friends astonished and his party followers breathless with the pace of his accomplishments on the domestic scene.

It is as though he had traded in his earlier compulsion to be everywhere and to get better acquainted with everybody for a later compulsion to keep so much legislation in the congressional popper that the country couldn't keep track of it.

John N. Garner once advised Franklin Roosevelt when the latter had been smiting his opposition cheek and thigh to lay off. In cattle country vernacular, he warned the No. 1 New Dealer "to quit running the cattle and let them fatten up a little." Mr. Roosevelt spurned the advice and subsequently learned he had taken the presidential pitcher to the well too often.

Lyndon Johnson has proved beyond any possibility of doubt that he is the most dynamic, the "doingest" chief executive of this century. He has made Theodore Roosevelt look like a shrinking violet by comparison.

THERE WOULD be no complaints if the White House became a haven of silence for a while. It would be nice to hear that the President and his lady were walking the dog with nothing on their minds.

Everybody would know, of course, they were in close touch with Viet Nam and the world's assorted battlefronts. But for a change it would be nice to know they have no immediate plans for loosing more tempests in the United States.

United States Day

Saturday will be United States Day, another opportunity for patriotic Americans to express their belief in the fundamental principles underlying our nation's greatness and to reaffirm their loyalty to our constitutional form of government and Christian ideals.

Because of the apathy of too many, our everburrowing enemies are able to advance their program aimed at the destruction of the U.S. Day by day the subversive groups go about their nefarious business under our very noses.

Tomorrow can serve as another day of awakening on behalf of the American heritage.

More Stress On Psychology

Revelation by the U.S. Department of Labor that at least $590,396 of Teamsters Union money was spent on defending union president James R. Hoffa in three criminal trials is shocking on the face of it.

But the fact this sum and a great deal more came out of union funds to cover the legal costs of not only President Hoffa but other unionists may not be equally shocking to union members. This has been one of the handicaps on union reform.

Rank-and-file unionists have been inclined to think of money spent by their officials and inescapable costs of operation. This has not been the universal state of mind, but it has been a prevailing state of mind.

Many unionists when confronted with evidence of misuse of their organizations resources have taken the attitude that the magnitude of the sums reflected the magnitude of the operation. They have taken pride in the fact they have been able to afford costs which once would have bankrupted union treasuries.

Instead of regarding gross spending on personal affairs as evidence of misconduct, they have looked upon it as proof their officials could afford whatever it cost to maintain themselves.

This has not been easy to understand.

President Hoffa's hold on the powerful union he leads has not been easy to understand. A large part of the difficulty has come from failure to put as much stress on the psychology of rank-and-file unionists as on standards of morality that sometimes were used to keep unionism and its leadership on the defensive.

No After-Dark Barking

By Truman Twill

Two of the best friends a dog ever had were talking about a threadbare subject.

What could be done about the dog nuisance? We hit on a perfect answer.

It was so perfect we might as well never have thought of it, because no one will agree with us.

Every dog residing in a built-up neighborhood should be required by law to be kept inside a building during the hours of darkness.

Dogs not kept inside after dark would be subject to seizure by constituted authority and either put up for adoption by new owners who wanted them or euthanized, on the assumption they were no longer wanted.

This would eliminate the after-dark dog nuisance.

It also would eliminate much of the daylight nuisance.

Why?

For the simple reason that dogs are designed by nature to be men's best friends. If denied human friendship, they are cheated of their destiny and misbehave.

If dogs in built-up neighborhoods had to be kept inside after dark, they would have a chance to be friendly with the human beings who possess them.

They would have no reason to bark from loneliness and boredom. They would have fewer reasons to make nuisances of themselves during daylight hours, too, because they would know they were firmly attached to the human family. They would be more tractable.

The human family involved in the relationship would discover either that it really wanted to have a dog, or had been having a dog only because it never had analyzed its feelings.

Here is the rub — people who do not want dogs yet own them, for no reason except to possess something.

If there is no affection between a dog and its owners, they shouldn't own a dog.

They are mocking one of the oldest relationships of earth.

There cannot be the same degree of affection in every human-canine relationship. No one expects the owner of a racing greyhound, for example, to feel the same as the owner of a seeing-eye dog.

But if no affection is there, the relationship is cockeyed. If it's cockeyed, it is subject to control by society — an established legal fact. No one has a legal right to abuse a dog or any other animal.

By the same token, no one should be allowed to assume any right to let a dog be a nuisance. Because the most serious nuisance is after-dark barking, dogs in built-up areas should be kept inside from sunset to sunrise.

It would be that simple — so simple that no one will do anything about it.

'Allow Me!'

New York Can't Help Itself

By Raymond Moley

New York City, despite its resplendence and interest, is really sick. Three doctors who, as candidates for mayor, are seeking a post at the bedside are making charges and claims that have little to do with the patient's recovery.

The leading candidate, Democrat Abraham Beame, is telling a long-suffering citizenry that things are not so bad as the critics say they are. He prefers to tell us what is right about New York.

John V. Lindsay, who seeks the support which elected the late Fiorello La Guardia three times, has had the La Guardia words but not the tune — the passionate righteousness in the Little Flower's campaigns which was the forerunner of indefatigable activity as mayor.

William F. Buckley Jr. is interesting but is aiming at an objective that has little relevance to the necessity to do something to arrest the decline of a great city.

What we are seeing and hearing in this campaign has little promise for the people who must live, raise their children and carry on their work, professions or businesses in New York in the years to come. What is really wrong is long-continued neglect of the basic needs of people who must live in its huddled confines. That neglect has centered in its government.

THERE IS A water shortage which may grow worse in the months to come. When it had a water scare several years ago, the city decided to tap the Hudson River 60 or 70 miles upstream. After the scare ended, the facilities under way there were scrapped.

During this year's shortage, water mains are bursting and leaking all over town. The water mains and sewers are in decay. Many were built a century ago.

Transportation, law enforcement, traffic, education and street cleaning are bad and getting worse. Business is leaving the city. Thousands of solid, middle-income people are moving out beyond the city limits.

Little can be expected from the election of Beame.

When Rep. Lindsay entered the contest there was great hope he might be elected and that there would be a change, however temporary. But he has been beset by miscalculations as well as by some circumstances beyond his control. History shows that nothing but a big, juicy scandal can unseat a Democratic administration in New York City.

There has been no such scandal. The trouble is not one shocking incident. It is the accumulation of many deficiencies and neglects. This has not shaken the apathy of New Yorkers. They have accepted sloppy government as a way of life.

Lindsay's repudiation of the Goldwater candidacy in 1964 was his right and privilege, but it was unfortunate in its present bearing on his candidacy for mayor. Despite a nationally held belief, there are Republicans in New York City. Last year, 802,000 of them voted for Goldwater.

Lindsay's party "apostacy" and his many votes in Congress in support of Democratic proposals are being rubbed in by Buckley. A considerable part of Buckley's Conservative party vote is expected to be drawn from alienated Republicans as well as from conservative Democrats.

LINDSAY entered the contest too soon. When he announced his candidacy, he expected to run against Mayor Robert Wagner. But when Wagner decided to retire and the mayor's man was defeated in the primary by Beame, it became necessary to shift the Lindsay attack.

The stinging rhetoric of Buckley and unfavorable polls turned Lindsay away from the main issue into an attack upon the Conservative candidate. He would have been wise to ignore Buckley, who is provocative but diverting. His major appeal is, after all, remote from the problems of New York City.

He is trying to prove that a show of conservative strength in New York will cause legislators at the state and national level to stand more firmly against liberal policies and legislation.

That is a desirable end, but the present necessity is to get better government for the hapless population of New York City.

Two Decades Of The United Nations

By Richard Spong

The United States embraces the United Nations not so much for what it is as for what it could be. Its support, except for a few left-wing malcontents and supernationalists of the right, is very real.

The nation's will has been expressed effectively by Congress, notably when the U.N. faced bankruptcy in 1962. The U.S. Senate last June approved two amendments to the U.N. constitution by 71 to 9. Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., spoke for the Senate when he called the international organization "the last best hope of mankind for peace."

Congressional reaction to the U.S. retreat in August on the voting-rights issue in the U.N. was mixed.

Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg's logic was severe. The General Assembly had demonstrated that it was not prepared to apply Article 19 of the U.N. Charter to the arrearages of the Soviet Union and other nations. Nevertheless, the consensus of the membership was that the Assembly should proceed normally.

"We will not seek to frustrate that consensus," Goldberg said, "since it is not in the world interest to have the work of the General Assembly immobilized in these troubled days."

SOME AMERICANS remembered the original position set down by Adlai E. Stevenson in December 1963: "Rigid adherence to the law, to the Charter, is essential to the Charter's preservation. Once you begin to contaminate or erode or interpret the Charter too flexibly, you very soon will have no sustaining body of legal structure to support the United Nations."

It is fashionable in some quarters to view the United Nations as a world debating society —or a rendezvous for corridor diplomacy. Walter Lippmann, certainly a friendly critic, wrote recently: "If one had to say what is the most important function of the United Nations today, the answer would be, I think, that it provides a meeting place where men who have first-hand - knowledge of the issues can talk privately."

President Johnson, addressing the 20th anniversary session of the Assembly on June 26, took a more positive stand.

He pointed out that the U.N. in 20 years had acted more than 50 times to keep the peace. "By persuading nations to justify their own conduct before all countries," the President said, "it has helped, at many times and in many places, to soften the harshness of man to his fellow man."

THE UNITED NATIONS, which started with a membership of 51 nations, now has 117 members. It has lost only Indonesia in the passage of 20 years.

New accessions have largely changed the character of the international body. The United States can no longer expect to automatic support of Latin American members, though they still tend to side with Washington.

The hope is that the new African nations which make up the largest voting bloc will not lean too hard either to East or West, nor sell their votes to the highest bidder.

If they work together to build a strong international organization, they will contribute more than they now know to their own development. An effective United Nations is the best hope for fulfillment of Pope Paul VI's enjoinder: "No more war! War never again!"

Rays Of Sunshine

A ray of sunshine may brighten the householder's future.

In time, the sunshine that falls on a house may provide it with all the fuel needed for any purpose.

As yet, solar energy cannot be harnessed economically enough to compete with old standbys such as coal, oil and hydroelectric power, but promising techniques have been devised to use sunlight for cooking food, heating houses and operating machinery.

All of earth's energy — except atomic and nuclear power — came originally from the sun, the National Geographic Society points out. In one second the sun radiates more power than man has consumed since the beginning of civilization. In three days the earth receives as much energy as could be derived by burning all of its oil and coal reserves as well as all its forests. The sunlight falling on Los Angeles alone has more energy than is consumed daily in all the homes on earth.

Since sunlight costs nothing, men have tried for centuries to tap its power. In 212 B.C., legend says, the Greek mathematician Archimedes set up a battery of mirrors to try to burn the sails of a Roman fleet attacking Syracuse.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

God's Hand Seen In The Hills

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

As I look over the hillside and see so much color and beauty this time of the year, I remember the famous lines "Only God can make a tree."

We have accomplished, discovered and invented much, but this business of making trees and beautiful changing of the seasons is a miracle and a task of God alone.

I have never been able to understand what an atheist or Communist feels in their minds when they look upon God's creation in its "Sunday best." For when everything is so beautiful in spring or fall, or when the sky is so full of stars, there is a stronger awareness of His being to most of us.

If a picture is worth a thousand words, then how clear His message ought to be for us when we behold His handiwork in the beautiful way he has created, our world for us.

We use much noise and a great number of words to get a message across. Often we go to great lengths for a cause. But God can send the snow in silence and cover the dirty or unsightly ground with a blanket of pure white.

A rose can open, any flower will bloom without a sound. With His invisible hand God can paint trees of green to red or brown or gold.

If ever I doubt about God I need only to "lift mine eyes to the hills." Looking up to them, surely no one could doubt that "God is."

'Tagging' Of Cars Stirs Attack

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I can tell you why some of the people of East Liverpool are going elsewhere to shop. Also many of those from the outskirts of the city.

It's because the Meter Maids tag their cars before the time is up. I know, because I've seen them do it. The people go shopping where they can shop at ease and in peace, no worrying about how soon a Meter Maid is going to tag their car.

People soon get tired of it. And at times when a ticket is taken to the office to be paid you get a smart answer.

So, in my mind, that is one of the reasons why people are moving out of town. They don't want to be made fools of any longer. They want to shop in a relaxing manner, not in this harassed way.

So stop and think of how many people paid a fine that they weren't entitled to. If the merchants were smart, they would see that the Meter Maids are responsible for their losing of some customers.

Early Days At Swaney Recalled

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Between the years 1922 and 1929, I gave two weeks of my time as supervisor of several teams of horses, with drivers, to clear off a section of what was to become the Swaney Airport. Pete Milliron made no charge for his teams.

Having been a resident of East Liverpool from 1897 to 1941, I still have a soft heart for the community.

I hope that the generous offer of Mr. Mike Turk will be accepted and that East Liverpool will profit by having the Swaney Airport so near.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Sidney Smith, cartoonist creater of the comic strip "The Gumps," was killed in an auto accident at Harvard, Ill. He was widely known in East Palestine, where his first wife, Gertrude Craddock, had resided at the time of their marriage in 1911.

Among other comic panels that were amusing Review readers were Toots and Casper, Bringing Up Father, Tillie the Toiler, Dumb Dora, Little Annie Rooney and Polly and her Pals.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The New Cumberland Drum and Bugle Corps received special recognition for having "carried on" during the war by participating in various parades for patriotic causes while seeing 32 of its members depart for the armed services during that period.

Arthur Rush, a Columbiana County boy who made good in one phase of the entertainment world of movies and radio, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Rush of Hanoverton. Rush was president of an agency which handled the "bookings" of many Hollywood stars.

TEN YEARS AGO — Eleven attended a meeting of the East Liverpool committee of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council here.

The Blue and White Nonpareil Club announced it would charter a train to the Martins Ferry-East Liverpool football game.

This 'n That

The two-car family in America is no longer an oddity, or even especially a mark of affluence. In today's average community, at least one out of every five families on the block has a second car in its driveway. And if there are children of driving age, there may be three cars for the family.

The famed Bushmen of South Africa have yellowish skins and resemble the Mongolian races. They are slender and most of them are less than five feet tall. They are the earliest human inhabitants of South Africa, and today are found mostly in and around the Kalahari Desert.

If dogs in built-up neighborhoods had to be kept inside after dark, they would have a chance to be friendly with the human beings who possess them.

They would have no reason to bark from loneliness and boredom. They would have fewer reasons to make nuisances of themselves during daylight hours, too, because they would know they were firmly attached to the human family. They would be more tractable.

The human family involved in the relationship would discover either that it really wanted to have a dog, or had been having a dog only because it never had analyzed its feelings.

Here is the rub — people who do not want dogs yet own them, for no reason except to possess something.

If there is no affection between a dog and its owners, they shouldn't own a dog.

They are mocking one of the oldest relationships of earth.

There cannot be the same degree of affection in every human-canine relationship. No one expects the owner of a racing greyhound, for example, to feel the same as the owner of a seeing-eye dog.

But if no affection is there, the relationship is cockeyed. If it's cockeyed, it is subject to control by society — an established legal fact. No one has a legal right to abuse a dog or any other animal.

By the same token, no one should be allowed to assume any right to let a dog be a nuisance. Because the most serious nuisance is after-dark barking, dogs in built-up areas should be kept inside from sunset to sunrise.

It would be that simple — so simple that no one will do anything about it.

LOU GRANT

New York Can't Help Itself

By Raymond Moley

New York City, despite its resplendence and interest, is really sick. Three doctors who, as candidates for mayor, are seeking a post at the bedside are making charges and claims that have little to do with the patient's recovery.

The leading candidate, Democrat Abraham Beame, is telling a long-suffering citizenry that things are not so bad as the critics say they are. He prefers to tell us what is right about New York.

John V. Lindsay, who seeks the support which elected the late Fiorello La Guardia three times, has had the La Guardia words but not the tune — the passionate righteousness in the Little Flower's campaigns which was the forerunner of indefatigable activity as mayor.

William F. Buckley Jr. is interesting but is aiming at an objective that has little relevance to the necessity to do something to arrest the decline of a great city.

What we are seeing and hearing in this campaign has little promise for the people who must live, raise their children and carry on their work, professions or businesses in New York in the years to come. What is really wrong is long-continued neglect of the basic needs of people who must live in its huddled confines. That neglect has centered in its government.

THERE IS A water shortage which may grow worse in the months to come. When it had a water scare several years ago, the city decided to tap the Hudson River 60 or 70 miles upstream. After the scare ended, the facilities under way there were scrapped.

During this year's shortage, water mains are bursting and leaking all over town. The water mains and sewers are in decay. Many were built a century ago.

Transportation, law enforcement, traffic, education and street cleaning are bad and getting worse. Business is leaving the city. Thousands of solid, middle-income people are moving out beyond the city limits.

Little can be expected from the election of Beame.

When Rep. Lindsay entered the contest there was great hope he might be elected and that there would be a change, however temporary. But he has been beset by miscalculations as well as by some circumstances beyond his control. History shows that nothing but a big, juicy scandal can unseat a Democratic administration in New York City.

There has been no such scandal. The trouble is not one shocking incident. It is the accumulation of many deficiencies and neglects. This has not shaken the apathy of New Yorkers. They have accepted sloppy government as a way of life.

Lindsay's repudiation of the Goldwater candidacy in 1964 was his right and privilege, but it was unfortunate in its present bearing on his candidacy for mayor. Despite a nationally held belief, there are Republicans in New York City. Last year, 802,000 of them voted for Goldwater.

Lindsay's party "apostacy" and his many votes in Congress in support of Democratic proposals are being rubbed in by Buckley. A considerable part of Buckley's Conservative party vote is expected to be drawn from alienated Republicans as well as from conservative Democrats.

LINDSAY entered the contest too soon. When he announced his candidacy, he expected to run against Mayor Robert Wagner. But when Wagner decided to retire and the mayor's man was defeated in the primary by Beame, it became necessary to shift the Lindsay attack.

The stinging rhetoric of Buckley and unfavorable polls turned Lindsay away from the main issue into an attack upon the Conservative candidate. He would have been wise to ignore Buckley, who is provocative but diverting. His major appeal is, after all, remote from the problems of New York City.

He is trying to prove that a show of conservative strength in New York will cause legislators at the state and national level to stand more firmly against liberal policies and legislation.

That is a desirable end, but the present necessity is to get better government for the hapless population of New York City.

Two Decades Of The United Nations

By Richard Spong

The United States embraces the United Nations not so much for what it is as for what it could be. Its support, except for a few left-wing malcontents and supernationalists of the right, is very real.

The nation's will has been expressed effectively by Congress, notably when the U.N. faced bankruptcy in 1962. The U.S. Senate last June approved two amendments to the U.N. constitution by 71 to 9. Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., spoke for the Senate when he called the international organization "the last best hope of mankind for peace."

Congressional reaction to the U.S. retreat in August on the voting-rights issue in the U.N. was mixed.

Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg's logic was severe. The General Assembly had demonstrated that it was not prepared to apply Article 19 of the U.N. Charter to the arrearages of the Soviet Union and other nations. Nevertheless, the consensus of the membership was that the Assembly should proceed normally.

"We will not seek to frustrate that consensus," Goldberg said, "since it is not in the world interest to have the work of the General Assembly immobilized in these troubled days."

SOME AMERICANS remembered the original position set down by Adlai E. Stevenson in December 1963: "Rigid adherence to the law, to the Charter, is essential to the Charter's preservation. Once you begin to contaminate or erode or interpret the Charter too flexibly, you very soon will have no sustaining body of legal structure to support the United Nations."

It is fashionable in some quarters to view the United Nations as a world debating society —or a rendezvous for corridor diplomacy. Walter Lippmann, certainly a friendly critic, wrote recently: "If one had to say what is the most important function of the United Nations today, the answer would be, I think, that it provides a meeting place where men who have first-hand - knowledge of the issues can talk privately."

President Johnson, addressing the 20th anniversary session of the Assembly on June 26, took a more positive stand.

He pointed out that the U.N. in 20 years had acted more than 50 times to keep the peace. "By persuading nations to justify their own conduct before all countries," the President said, "it has helped, at many times and in many places, to soften the harshness of man to his fellow man."

THE UNITED NATIONS, which started with a membership of 51 nations, now has 117 members. It has lost only Indonesia in the passage of 20 years.

New accessions have largely changed the character of the international body. The United States can no longer expect to automatic support of Latin American members, though they still tend to side with Washington.

The hope is that the new African nations which make up the largest voting bloc will not lean too hard either to East or West, nor sell their votes to the highest bidder.

If they work together to build a strong international organization, they will contribute more than they now know to their own development. An effective United Nations is the best hope for fulfillment of Pope Paul VI's enjoinder: "No more war! War never again!"

Rays Of Sunshine

A ray of sunshine may brighten the householder's future.

In time, the sunshine that falls on a house may provide it with all the fuel needed for any purpose.

As yet, solar energy cannot be harnessed economically enough to compete with old standbys such as coal, oil and hydroelectric power, but promising techniques have been devised to use sunlight for cooking food, heating houses and operating machinery.

All of earth's energy — except atomic and nuclear power — came originally from the sun, the National Geographic Society points out. In one second the sun radiates more power than man has consumed since the beginning of civilization. In three days the earth receives as much energy as could be derived by burning all of its oil and coal reserves as well as all its forests. The sunlight falling on Los Angeles alone has more energy than is consumed daily in all the homes on earth.

Since sunlight costs nothing, men have tried for centuries to tap its power. In 212 B.C., legend says, the Greek mathematician Archimedes set up a battery of mirrors to try to burn the sails of a Roman fleet attacking Syracuse.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

God's Hand Seen In The Hills

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

As I look over the hillside and see so much color and beauty this time of the year, I remember the famous lines "Only God can make a tree."

We have accomplished, discovered and invented much, but this business of making trees and beautiful changing of the seasons is a miracle and a task of God alone.

I have never been able to understand what an atheist or Communist feels in their minds when they look upon God's creation in its "Sunday best." For when everything is so beautiful in spring or fall, or when the sky is so full of stars, there is a stronger awareness of His being to most of us.

If a picture is worth a thousand words, then how clear His message ought to be for us when we behold His handiwork in the beautiful way he has created, our world for us.

We use much noise and a great number of words to get a message across. Often we go to great lengths for a cause. But God can send the snow in silence and cover the dirty or unsightly ground with a blanket of pure white.

A rose can open, any flower will bloom without a sound. With His invisible hand God can paint trees of green to red or brown or gold.

If ever I doubt about God I need only to "lift mine eyes to the hills." Looking up to them, surely no one could doubt that "God is."

'Tagging' Of Cars Stirs Attack

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I can tell you why some of the people of East Liverpool are going elsewhere to shop. Also many of those from the outskirts of the city.

It's because the Meter Maids tag their cars before the time is up. I know, because I've seen them do it. The people go shopping where they can shop at ease and in peace, no worrying about how soon a Meter Maid is going to tag their car.

People soon get tired of it. And at times when a ticket is taken to the office to be paid you get a smart answer.

So, in my mind, that is one of the reasons why people are moving out of town. They don't want to be made fools of any longer. They want to shop in a relaxing manner, not in this harassed way.

So stop and think of how many people paid a fine that they weren't entitled to. If the merchants were smart, they would see that the Meter Maids are responsible for their losing of some customers.

Early Days At Swaney Recalled

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Between the years 1922 and 1929, I gave two weeks of my time as supervisor of several teams of horses, with drivers, to clear off a section of what was to become the Swaney Airport. Pete Milliron made no charge for his teams.

Having been a resident of East Liverpool from 1897 to 1941, I still have a soft heart for the community.

I hope that the generous offer of Mr. Mike Turk will be accepted and that East Liverpool will profit by having the Swaney Airport so near.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Sidney Smith, cartoonist creater of the comic strip "The Gumps," was killed in an auto accident at Harvard, Ill. He was widely known in East Palestine, where his first wife, Gertrude Craddock, had resided at the time of their marriage in 1911.

Among other comic panels that were amusing Review readers were Toots and Casper, Bringing Up Father, Tillie the Toiler, Dumb Dora, Little Annie Rooney and Polly and her Pals.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The New Cumberland Drum and Bugle Corps received special recognition for having "carried on" during the war by participating in various parades for patriotic causes while seeing 32 of its members depart for the armed services during that period.

Arthur Rush, a Columbiana County boy who made good in one phase of the entertainment world of movies and radio, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Rush of Hanoverton. Rush was president of an agency which handled the "bookings" of many Hollywood stars.

TEN YEARS AGO — Eleven attended a meeting of the East Liverpool committee of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council here.

The Blue and White Nonpareil Club announced it would charter a train to the Martins Ferry-East Liverpool football game.

This 'n That

The two-car family in America is no longer an oddity, or even especially a mark of affluence. In today's average community, at least one out of every five families on the block has a second car in its driveway. And if there are children of driving age, there may be three cars for the family.

The famed Bushmen of South Africa have yellowish skins and resemble the Mongolian races. They are slender and most of them are less than five feet tall. They are the earliest human inhabitants of South Africa, and today are found mostly in and around the Kalahari Desert.

Hancock Group Maps Activities

NEW CUMBERLAND — Allocation of funds for future improvements was discussed at a meeting of the Hancock County Planning Commission in the county court offices Thursday night.

The park committee, comprised of Ray Shaw, Jack Evans, Dick Wright, Michael Sinicropi, P. L. Donovan and Miss Callie Tsapis, reported on present facilities at the recreation site at Tomlinson Run State Park and how they might be improved.

Tomlinson, in which Hancock County invested $9,000 last year, is the only park of its kind in West Virginia supported with county funds, it was pointed out. One of the major projects discussed was the repaving of roads.

The incinerator project also was discussed, but no action was taken.

The next meeting of the commission will be Nov. 18.

Morrissey

draw the nomination. "No," Moyers replied.

In his speech, watched from the gallery by several members of the Kennedy family, Kennedy defended Morrissey but said, "I would wish any man placed on the court on my recommendation to be able to take his seat free of unresolved controversy".

If a vote were taken Thursday, Kennedy said, Morrissey would have been confirmed.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, of Montana, agreed, saying "The votes were here."

However, not having to vote was a relief for some Democratic senators. The Republicans, seemed solidly lined up behind their leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, in opposing Morrissey.

Dirksen had challenged Morrissey's qualifications, as had the America Bar Association and the Boston Bar Association. The Massachusetts Bar Association and some other bar groups had endorsed him for the $30,000-a-year judgeship.

A sidelight on the nomination developed later in the day as reports circulated on Capitol Hill that Italian newspapers reported on the chance encounter between deported Mafia gangster Michael Spinella and Judge Morrissey and Edward Kennedy on the Italian island of Capri in 1961.

A spokesman for Kennedy, said neither Kennedy nor Morrissey had ever seen Spinella before or knew who he was until Spinella approached them at an outdoor table at a Capri hotel.

The spokesman added:

"Spinella, of course, knew who Kennedy was. He told Kennedy he had a son in the Marine Corps who had a problem he wanted Kennedy to look into. Kennedy told Spinella to write him a letter.

". . .Kennedy was just being civil to someone who had come up to him and told of needing help for a son in the Marine Corps. . . Kennedy never got a letter from Spinella about his son or heard from him otherwise and has never seen him again."

Kennedy, not then a U.S. senator, was heading a delegation of Bostonians on a goodwill mission. Morrissey was a member of the delegation.

The spokesman said it was a case of Spinella, a deported American gangster, latching onto a public figure. He said Spinella was the source of the stories which first appeared in the Italian papers in 1961.

The spokesman said that to counter any possible Republican use of the Italian articles, Sen. Kennedy's office had gotten from Morrissey last Sunday an affidavit starting that he had not known Spinella before the chance meeting in Capri and that he had never acted as attorney for him and never had any contact with Spinella afterward.

At the Justice Department, a spokesman said the FBI was aware of the meeting but had concluded it had no significance.

Spinella, once linked by American police with the notorious Detroit "Purple Gang," was deported to Italy in 1953 on a charge that he had entered the United States illegally.

Jury May Get Case Today

'Will Drop Bombshells,' Klansman's Lawyer Says

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — An attorney for Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., youthful Ku Klux Klan member charged with slaying a white civil rights worker, says he will "drop some bombshells before this trial is over."

Defense attorney Arthur J. Hanes, former mayor of Birmingham, told newsmen Thursday he planned to call few defense witnesses. "Once the state is through I intend to wrap up my case in a couple of hours. The jury may have this thing by noon."

Hanes then added that he would have some "bombshells" but declined to say with what they would deal.

Earlier, Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers said the state had one final witness before winding up the prosecution against Wilkins, who is charged with killing Viola Gregg Liuzzo of Detroit last March 25.

FBI ballistics expert Marion E. Williams will seek to link a 38-caliber pistol allegedly used in the murder to the 21-year-old Klansman.

Wilkins, a Fairfield, Ala., mechanic whose first trial on the murder charge ended in a hung jury at the same 133-year- old courthouse, was identified by the state's key witness Thursday as Mrs. Liuzzo's slayer.

Gary Thomas Rowe, 35, Klansman who has been an FBI informer for five years, said Wilkins emptied a pistol into the woman's car after a high-speed auto chase on a dark highway.

The 39-year-old mother of five was ferrying civil rights workers back to Selma after a 50-mile, four-day march on the state Capitol in Montgomery when she was shot. A young Negro in the car with her, Leroy Moton, escaped injury.

The red-haired Rowe, a former Birmingham bartender, testified for 45 minutes that he, Wilkins, and two other Klansmen drove at speeds up to 100 miles an hour to overtake the Liuzzo car about 20 miles from Selma.

He said the driver of the car was Eugene Thomas, 42 and the other Klansman in the car was William O. Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, and both under indictment in the slaying.

Rowe said that as they pulled around Mrs. Liuzzo's car, Thomas yelled, "Get 'em! Shoot the hell out of 'em!"

"The first thing I know," Rowe said, "Wilkins stuck his arm out the window — he had a pistol in his hand -- at elbow length."

The FBI informer said Wilkins fired six times while Eaton, sitting in the front seat of the car, emptied a 22-caliber pistol.

Car, Truck Damaged In E. 3rd St. Collision

An auto and a truck were damaged in a collision this morning at 6:52 at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1952 model pickup truck driven by Austin Gregory, 43, of 321 Adolphus St., Chester, and a 1959 model convertible operated by William B. Patrick, 42, of 820 St. George St., officers said.

Patrick reported he halted on Walnut St. for a stop sign at E. 3rd St. and as he pulled onto the thoroughfare the truck turned off E. 3rd St. onto Walnut St. and hit the auto. Gregory said he did not see the car. No one was cited. The front of each vehicle was damaged.

Adjournment Eyed Today By Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress pushes toward adjournment today, still faced with final decisions on federal pay and sugar legislation.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen predicted flatly Congress would finish its work today, while other congressional leaders said the end would come by Saturday at the latest.

As the session drew near a close, the Johnson administration saw money denied to start two of its "Great Society" programs when both Houses accepted the decision of Senate-House conferees to drop appropriations requests at this time for rent subsidy and teachers corps programs.

But the action scarcely dimmed the luster of a Congress which has given President Johnson practically every major bill for which he asked.

In both instances Thursday, the Senate backed down in the face of House insistence that funds be delayed until details of the programs can be further worked out.

These issues remained to be settled:

— SUGAR. Senate and House conferees meet today to work out differences between the two chambers' measures setting foreign and domestic quotas for the U.S. sugar market.

Chairman Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., of the House Agriculture Committee indicated he thinks there will be little difficulty in reaching an agreement. The Senate bill is more in line with administration recommendations.

— FEDERAL PAY. Prompt Senate passage was expected today of a bill with salary increases of 3.6 per cent effective Oct. 1 for 1.8 million federal workers.

The Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee scaled down a House-passed bill calling for a 4 per cent raise — more than the administration favors. The House was expected to go along with Senate action in order to avoid the possibility of a presidential veto.

Before turning to the federal pay question, the Senate hoped to act on President Johnson's nomination of David G. Bress to be U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., planned a last-ditch floor fight against Bress but Democratic leaders were confident the nomination would be approved.

80 Buried As Bridge Collapses In Pakistan

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — Eighty workers were buried Thursday night when an explosion collapsed a canal bridge at Tila Buad, 100 miles west of Rawalpindi, the newspaper Jang reported.

The first report said there were a number of deaths, but detailed information was lacking because the mishap occurred in an isolated jungle area.

Hancock Group Maps Activities

NEW CUMBERLAND — Allocation of funds for future improvements was discussed at a meeting of the Hancock County Planning Commission in the county court offices Thursday night.

The park committee, comprised of Ray Shaw, Jack Evans, Dick Wright, Michael Sinicropi, P. L. Donovan and Miss Callie Tsapis, reported on present facilities at the recreation site at Tomlinson Run State Park and how they might be improved.

Tomlinson, in which Hancock County invested $9,000 last year, is the only park of its kind in West Virginia supported with county funds, it was pointed out. One of the major projects discussed was the repaving of roads.

The incinerator project also was discussed, but no action was taken.

The next meeting of the commission will be Nov. 18.

Morrissey

draw the nomination. "No," Moyers replied.

In his speech, watched from the gallery by several members of the Kennedy family, Kennedy defended Morrissey but said, "I would wish any man placed on the court on my recommendation to be able to take his seat free of unresolved controversy".

If a vote were taken Thursday, Kennedy said, Morrissey would have been confirmed.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, of Montana, agreed, saying "The votes were here."

However, not having to vote was a relief for some Democratic senators. The Republicans, seemed solidly lined up behind their leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, in opposing Morrissey.

Dirksen had challenged Morrissey's qualifications, as had the America Bar Association and the Boston Bar Association. The Massachusetts Bar Association and some other bar groups had endorsed him for the $30,000-a-year judgeship.

A sidelight on the nomination developed later in the day as reports circulated on Capitol Hill that Italian newspapers reported on the chance encounter between deported Mafia gangster Michael Spinella and Judge Morrissey and Edward Kennedy on the Italian island of Capri in 1961.

A spokesman for Kennedy, said neither Kennedy nor Morrissey had ever seen Spinella before or knew who he was until Spinella approached them at an outdoor table at a Capri hotel.

The spokesman added:

"Spinella, of course, knew who Kennedy was. He told Kennedy he had a son in the Marine Corps who had a problem he wanted Kennedy to look into. Kennedy told Spinella to write him a letter.

". . .Kennedy was just being civil to someone who had come up to him and told of needing help for a son in the Marine Corps. . . Kennedy never got a letter from Spinella about his son or heard from him otherwise and has never seen him again."

Kennedy, not then a U.S. senator, was heading a delegation of Bostonians on a goodwill mission. Morrissey was a member of the delegation.

The spokesman said it was a case of Spinella, a deported American gangster, latching onto a public figure. He said Spinella was the source of the stories which first appeared in the Italian papers in 1961.

The spokesman said that to counter any possible Republican use of the Italian articles, Sen. Kennedy's office had gotten from Morrissey last Sunday an affidavit starting that he had not known Spinella before the chance meeting in Capri and that he had never acted as attorney for him and never had any contact with Spinella afterward.

At the Justice Department, a spokesman said the FBI was aware of the meeting but had concluded it had no significance.

Spinella, once linked by American police with the notorious Detroit "Purple Gang," was deported to Italy in 1953 on a charge that he had entered the United States illegally.

Jury May Get Case Today

'Will Drop Bombshells,' Klansman's Lawyer Says

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — An attorney for Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., youthful Ku Klux Klan member charged with slaying a white civil rights worker, says he will "drop some bombshells before this trial is over."

Defense attorney Arthur J. Hanes, former mayor of Birmingham, told newsmen Thursday he planned to call few defense witnesses. "Once the state is through I intend to wrap up my case in a couple of hours. The jury may have this thing by noon."

Hanes then added that he would have some "bombshells" but declined to say with what they would deal.

Earlier, Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers said the state had one final witness before winding up the prosecution against Wilkins, who is charged with killing Viola Gregg Liuzzo of Detroit last March 25.

FBI ballistics expert Marion E. Williams will seek to link a 38-caliber pistol allegedly used in the murder to the 21-year-old Klansman.

Wilkins, a Fairfield, Ala., mechanic whose first trial on the murder charge ended in a hung jury at the same 133-year- old courthouse, was identified by the state's key witness Thursday as Mrs. Liuzzo's slayer.

Gary Thomas Rowe, 35, Klansman who has been an FBI informer for five years, said Wilkins emptied a pistol into the woman's car after a high-speed auto chase on a dark highway.

The 39-year-old mother of five was ferrying civil rights workers back to Selma after a 50-mile, four-day march on the state Capitol in Montgomery when she was shot. A young Negro in the car with her, Leroy Moton, escaped injury.

The red-haired Rowe, a former Birmingham bartender, testified for 45 minutes that he, Wilkins, and two other Klansmen drove at speeds up to 100 miles an hour to overtake the Liuzzo car about 20 miles from Selma.

He said the driver of the car was Eugene Thomas, 42 and the other Klansman in the car was William O. Eaton, 41, both of Bessemer, and both under indictment in the slaying.

Rowe said that as they pulled around Mrs. Liuzzo's car, Thomas yelled, "Get 'em! Shoot the hell out of 'em!"

"The first thing I know," Rowe said, "Wilkins stuck his arm out the window — he had a pistol in his hand -- at elbow length."

The FBI informer said Wilkins fired six times while Eaton, sitting in the front seat of the car, emptied a 22-caliber pistol.

Car, Truck Damaged In E. 3rd St. Collision

An auto and a truck were damaged in a collision this morning at 6:52 at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1952 model pickup truck driven by Austin Gregory, 43, of 321 Adolphus St., Chester, and a 1959 model convertible operated by William B. Patrick, 42, of 820 St. George St., officers said.

Patrick reported he halted on Walnut St. for a stop sign at E. 3rd St. and as he pulled onto the thoroughfare the truck turned off E. 3rd St. onto Walnut St. and hit the auto. Gregory said he did not see the car. No one was cited. The front of each vehicle was damaged.

Adjournment Eyed Today By Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress pushes toward adjournment today, still faced with final decisions on federal pay and sugar legislation.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen predicted flatly Congress would finish its work today, while other congressional leaders said the end would come by Saturday at the latest.

As the session drew near a close, the Johnson administration saw money denied to start two of its "Great Society" programs when both Houses accepted the decision of Senate-House conferees to drop appropriations requests at this time for rent subsidy and teachers corps programs.

But the action scarcely dimmed the luster of a Congress which has given President Johnson practically every major bill for which he asked.

In both instances Thursday, the Senate backed down in the face of House insistence that funds be delayed until details of the programs can be further worked out.

These issues remained to be settled:

— SUGAR. Senate and House conferees meet today to work out differences between the two chambers' measures setting foreign and domestic quotas for the U.S. sugar market.

Chairman Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., of the House Agriculture Committee indicated he thinks there will be little difficulty in reaching an agreement. The Senate bill is more in line with administration recommendations.

— FEDERAL PAY. Prompt Senate passage was expected today of a bill with salary increases of 3.6 per cent effective Oct. 1 for 1.8 million federal workers.

The Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee scaled down a House-passed bill calling for a 4 per cent raise — more than the administration favors. The House was expected to go along with Senate action in order to avoid the possibility of a presidential veto.

Before turning to the federal pay question, the Senate hoped to act on President Johnson's nomination of David G. Bress to be U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., planned a last-ditch floor fight against Bress but Democratic leaders were confident the nomination would be approved.

80 Buried As Bridge Collapses In Pakistan

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — Eighty workers were buried Thursday night when an explosion collapsed a canal bridge at Tila Bund, 100 miles west of Rawalpindi, the newspaper Jang reported.

The first report said there were a number of deaths, but detailed information was lacking because the mishap occurred in an isolated jungle area.

How To Achieve Happy Reducing

The happiest reducers are those who step up exercise instead of trying to subsist on too little food. If you find reducing slow going, don't make the mistake of cutting calories even lower When you do this, something dreary happens to your looks and to your spirits. The way foods are built, it takes a certain number of calories to furnish the essential protective nutrients.

Ida Jean Kain

For women, 1,000 calories a day is a safe reducing level and for men 1,400 calories. Studies have shown that when calories are cut below 1,000 a day, blood sugar falls and depression results. If you are not losing on this number of calories, change the character of your diet and the pattern of your eating. Your daily fare must furnish the kind of nutrients that keep the body stimulated. Be sure to have a protein food at breakfast, as well as at lunch and dinner. Have a substantial pick-up in the late afternoon to cut ahead of hunger and prevent overeating at dinner.

CALORIE burning is the result of energy expended, so stringent dieting actually defeats your purpose. On too little food you feel tired, sloth sets in, and you practice economy of motion. When you shun all physical activity, muscles atrophy and the result is a depleted, sagging appearance. You cannot win by exchanging fat for sagging muscles.

A moderate amount of regular exercise is the answer. One dieter, who had reduced 52 pounds on her doctor's orders, felt discouraged because her friends were remarking on how drawn she looked. She started walking two to three miles a day, and now she gets nothing but compliments.

Friends ask if she has been away on a vacation. Exercise is a tonic measure. There is no better exercise than walking, and at this season no more pleasant way to burn calories. Walking burns 85 to 100 calories per mile, depending on your walking rate and on your weight.

WHAT ROLE do calisthenics play in reducing? Think of stretch - bend - turns as shapeups and you get the picture. From the standpoint of shapeliness, the muscles that are neglected in daily living should be exercised. These include the important abdominal muscles which brace the front line, and the lateral muscles which bound the silhouette on the sides. When these muscles go soft, the figure loses its clearly defined lines.

Figures Outlined On Registration In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—When Pennsylvania voters go to the polls in the municipal elections Nov. 2 the Democrats apparently will outnumber the Republicans in registration by about 80,000.

This figure was gleaned from unofficial figures tabulated Wednesday.

Based on official statistics from 66 counties and primary election registration figures from Lackawanna County, the Democrats will have about 2,758,000 voters and the Republicans about 2,678,000.

In last year's presidential election the Democratic majority was 124,831. There will be 9,239 voting precincts in the commonwealth for the upcoming election.

Democrats will have lost 125,718 voters from last year and Republicans 81,022 — if the unofficial tabulation for the current period remains unchanged.

Death Cause Of Actress Still Mystery

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Police all over Southern California were looking for Marie McDonald that January night in 1957. But it was a truck driver who found her — walking a desert road 100 miles from Los Angeles.

The 24-hour search for the curvaceous, blonde actress, probed first as a kidnaping, then as a hoax, ended on a note of mystery. And so, at 42, did the life of the former Marie Frye—the girl Hollywood called "The Body."

Her death early Thursday, of causes yet to be determined, left unanswered the questions detectives had raised after she told police at Indio, Calif., this story:

Two swarthy men kidnaped her from her San Fernando Valley home, held her awhile in a city residence, drove her to the desert, beat and abused her, then released her, still wearing pajamas and a green house coat.

When she died, it was at the suburban home she shared with film producer Don Taylor, her sixth husband. He said she retired Wednesday night in seemingly good spirits. He found her dead at 4 a.m., slumped over a dressing table.

10 Pass Test For Posts As Meter Maids

Ten women in a field of 11 scored passing grades in a test conducted Thursday night at City Hall by the Civil Service Commission to draw up a new eligibility list for appointment of city "Meter Maids."

The names of the top five will be certified shortly to Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, who is scheduled to name a full-time appointee and two to part-time jobs to fill vacancies.

The top five, listed in the order in which they finished, are: Kay F. Waters, 2214 Harvey Ave., Sondra A. Matthew, 662 Riley Ave., Juanita F. Stoffel, 1716 Wyoming Ave., Betty Ann Illig, 1930 Iris Ave., and Joan C. Fetty, 826 Fairview St.

The other five, also listed in the order of their grades, are: Linda Lee Rudy, 1001 Dresden Ave., Juanita C. Reese, 945 Dresden Ave., Marylyn E. Mills, 1347 Sunnyside Ave., Mary V. Hayes, 1240½ Pennsylvania Ave., and Ruth E. Smith, 211 Beechwood St.

Vodrey requested a certified list from which to make three appointments. Law says in such circumstances five names will be certified.

The successful applicants have been mailed papers for physical examinations and the names will be certified as soon as the physical tests are complete, the commission said.

Mrs. Catherine Martin and Mrs. Ruth Fetty resigned in September as regular "Meter Maids." Mrs. Pauline Nelson resigned about the same time as a part-time worker.

Meanwhile, the commission reminded that Saturday noon is the deadline for filing for a test for the post of clerk-stenographer in the city income tax department. The exam will be held Nov. 1. Seven have filed to date.

Officials Open Probe In Coal Mine Disaster

SARDIS, W. Va. (AP) — Federal and state mine safety officials opened an official investigation today into the cause of the underground mine fire which claimed seven lives earlier this week.

The fire occurred at the Mars mine of the Clinchfield Coal Co. at Sardis, about six miles northwest of Clarksburg. Company officials have said a short circuit that resulted when a continuous mining machine hit a power line is the cause.

Young Driver Arrested For 2-Way Crash

Officers cited a young driver on two charges after a two-way collision Thursday at 3:23 p.m on Pennsylvania Ave. at Elizabeth St.

Charles Thomas Landy, 23, of Valley Ave. was cited by Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Officers said Landy's car was involved in a collision with a halted 1959 model station wagon driven by Paul Barbuta, 40, of 2200 Michigan Ave.

Barbuta reported he was halted for a traffic light at the intersection when Landy's car struck his auto in the rear. Then Landy backed up and drove away, Barbuta reported. Hayes said his investigation identified Landy as the hit-skip driver.

The crash damaged the entire rear of Barbuta's car and the entire front of Landy's vehicle, police said.

Landy was sentenced to 45 days in jail today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, on the hit-skip charge and fined $50 and costs on the charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. His driver's license also was suspended for six months. He pleaded guilty to both counts.

Both Hayes and Barbuta testified Landy had been drinking. The judge commented: "I think you were afraid of being picked up for drunken driving." He added that children were on the street leaving the nearby Neville School at the time of the mishap and declared that Landy's car might have struck a youngster.

Barbuta testified that Landy's car hit his auto from the rear, dislodging the gas tank. Then Landy said: "Just a minute," but drove away without identifying himself, Barbuta said. Barbuta started after Landy on foot, but encountered Hayes in a cruiser. He halted the officer and told him of the crash.

Hayes said he noted that Landy had turned into Price St., a dead - end street. He said he found Landy on foot. Landy denied involvement in an accident until his damaged car was discovered, the officer said.

The judge praised Hayes for "very good police work" in apprehending Landy.

Boy Critical With Wound After Holdup

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—A high school youth was in critical condition today, suffering from a gunshot wound inflicted by police after he escaped with a bag full of money in a daylight bank robbery.

Thomas Szewczyk, a 19-year-old senior at Brunswick High School, led police on a 100-mile-an-hour chase for six miles Thursday before police bullets forced him off the road, Medina County sheriff's Deputies reported.

The youth, carrying a shotgun, was hit in the stomach after he ran from his auto on County Road 53. The car had smashed into a ditch.

Police recovered from his auto all but $5 of the $9,955 taken earlier from the Old Phoenix National Bank branch in a shopping center on U.S. 42.

No charges have been filed. The youth is in Medina Community Hospital.

Deputies said he entered the bank carrying the gun and a brown paper bag. He ordered a teller, Miss Donna Deckman, to fill it up but became nervous and grabbed the bag when it was only half full.

Bank employes got the license number of the youth's getaway car and police took up the chase a few miles away.

Two police shots hit the gas tank and window of the fleeing auto.

Deputies said the youth told them he got the idea for the holdup Wednesday. He reported his auto stolen, then transferred license plates from his mother's car to his car.

Beaver Fund Lags Slightly

The United Funds campaign for $864,490 in Beaver County continues to lag behind last year's reporting by 1 per cent, or approximately $12,000.

During the past week the eight local area United Funds affiliated with the countywide drive reported an additional $200,000. This brings the total to $760,738, or 88 per cent of the goal.

"It is very unfortunate that our drive is behind schedule," said M. J. Demeter, Ambridge plant Manager of the Armco Steel Corp. and UF countywide campaign chairman.

"We in Beaver County have always been proud of the fact that we take care of our own through the annual United Fund drive. Most of this year our economy has been good and now people are tending to forget about their less fortunate neighbors. I sincerely hope that within the next two weeks our citizens become reawakened to the need of a successful UF campaign. The campaign failure will mean that many of the 50,000 served annually by UF agencies will be denied services."

The Aliquippa area, with 91 per cent of its $288,476 goal in hand, leads area reporting in the county. However, the Manufacturing Division accounts for the major portion of their $263,329 report to date. Many phases of the communitywide effort are lagging behind.

Second in reporting is the Monaca area, with 90 per cent of its goal of $78,065.

The Upper Beaver Valley will conclude its campaign next week. It finishes earlier than any other drive in the county. To date it has reported $165,360, or 87.5 per cent of a $188,869 goal.

were pounding the Communists through the night.

U.S. pilots said a field to the north of the camp was littered with Viet Cong bodies.

Government troops went on the offensive in the Mekong River delta and new Viet Cong losses were reported in a battle earlier in the week in the northernmost province of Quang Tri.

Fifty-nine guerrillas were reported killed in two operations in the delta, 43 of them in a clash Thursday in Dinh Tuong Province, 35, miles southwest of Saigon.

U.S. sources confirmed that 148 Viet Cong were killed in the Red attack Wednesday on an outpost in Ba Long Valley, 410 miles north of Saigon. Earlier reports said 90 guerrillas were killed.

U.S. Marines in the Qui Nhon area, 260 miles north of Saigon, ambushed a Viet Cong force and killed 11 guerrillas. No American casualties were reported. Other Marines in the Da Nang and Chu Lai areas reported 11 other Viet Cong killed.

In the Mekong River Delta overwhelming strength and speedy action paid off for South Vietnamese forces.

About 600 government troops swooped down on a small Viet Cong concentration at Xom Chua, 35 miles southwest of Saigon. They killed 43 of the Communists, captured 15 and came out with only a few wounded Thursday.

There were no casualties among the American advisers with the government force.

Reconnaissance units and a ranger battalion pushed into the area in the flooded Plain of Reeds after reports that a Viet Cong company or battalion — up to 550 men — were operating there.

The government troops seized a small number of arms, captured three Viet Cong suspects and destroyed 23 sampans in nearby canals, but enemy casualties in that phase of the action were not known when the fighting died and the government troops pulled out.

Vietnamese commanders and senior American advisers are braced for a final Viet Cong push in the Mekong River delta before the rainy season ends.

Johnson

ic in Rochester, Minn., had come to stay with Johnson at the White House as long as "the President is there."

The doctors had given Johnson "the full green light" and sent him home with just a "lean and lightweight bandage" over the portion of the incision where the last of three drainage tubes had been removed.

The President kissed his Navy nurse, Lt. (j.g.) Mary Carroll of Cleveland, goodby, told fellow patients left behind "Now you get well" and paid a farewell visit to a ward of Marines wounded in Viet Nam fighting.

"I feel like a fellow casualty," he told them, "I have been out of circulation for a few days and kind of sliced up a little myself, but I have gone through nothing like what you have gone through.

"The thing, though, that made me able to take what I did take with my chin up, was the knowledge that men like you are willing to do what you did for your country."

The President commiserated: "Some of you must think that you got a bad break. And you have."

Then, he added, "But because of what you have done, there are three billion people in the world that will get a better break and their kids will live better."

Group Backs School Levy

The executive committee of the East Liverpool Federation of Parent - Teacher Organizations Thursday night unanimously endorsed the proposed 3.5-mill school levy in the Nov. 2 election.

The group also authorized a contribution of funds to support the campaign for the levy, which is intended to raise the salaries of teachers and other school personnel.

William Blair Jr., president, was in charge.

The group attended a meeting of the Citizens Committee For Better Schools at the High School at which Supt. Paul Blair explained the need for the levy and mapped plans for the campaign.

Blair said the salary schedule increase is needed to make the city school district competitive with other districts which are paying higher salaries.

"We must retain our good teachers and have a salary program which will attract other good teachers if we expect to provide a proper education in our new schools," Blair declared.

Mrs. Dale Franklin was named treasurer, succeeding James Blazer who has moved out of town.

The next meeting will be Nov. 22.

Castro Holds Younger Men For Military

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Refugees are leaving Cuba by the hundreds but Prime Minister Fidel Castro says men of military age will be kept behind.

The arrival of more than 350 refugees aboard 26 small boats in the Florida Keys Thursday ended a two-day lull in the exodus. Twenty-three arrived aboard two small boats early today.

New arrivals said more than 200 boats are waiting to sail emigrants the 90 miles to Key West.

ic in Rochester, Minn., had come to stay with Johnson at the White House as long as "the President is there."

The doctors had given Johnson "the full green light" and sent him home with just a "lean and lightweight bandage" over the portion of the incision where the last of three drainage tubes had been removed.

The President kissed his Navy nurse, Lt. (j.g.) Mary Carroll of Cleveland, goodby, told fellow patients left behind "Now you get well" and paid a farewell visit to a ward of Marines wounded in Viet Nam fighting.

"I feel like a fellow casualty," he told them, "I have been out of circulation for a few days and kind of sliced up a little myself, but I have gone through nothing like what you have gone through.

"The thing, though, that made me able to take what I did take with my chin up, was the knowledge that men like you are willing to do what you did for your country."

The Preident commiserated: "Some of you must think that you got a bad break. And you have."

Then, he added, "But because of what you have done, there are three billion people in the world that will get a better break and their kids will live better."

Group Backs School Levy

The executive committee of the East Liverpool Federation of Parent - Teacher Organizations Thursday night unanimously endorsed the proposed 3.5-mill school levy in the Nov. 2 election.

The group also authorized a contribution of funds to support the campaign for the levy, which is intended to raise the salaries of teachers and other school personnel.

William Blair Jr., president, was in charge.

The group attended a meeting of the Citizens Committee For Better Schools at the High School at which Supt. Paul Blair explained the need for the levy and mapped plans for the campaign.

Blair said the salary schedule increase is needed to make the city school district competitive with other districts which are paying higher salaries.

"We must retain our good teachers and have a salary program which will attract other good teachers if we expect to provide a proper education in our new schools," Blair declared.

Mrs. Dale Franklin was named treasurer, succeeding James Blazer who has moved out of town.

The next meeting will be Nov. 22.

4 Drivers Forfeit

SALINEVILLE — Four motorists charged with stop sign violations Sunday forfeited $10 bonds Thursday night in Mayor Stanley Fitch's court. They were Hugh Cover of Poland, Edward Morgan of Youngstown, Roy Householder of Toronto and Edward Urschler of Columbiana.

VERY MOVING SIGHT. Even in New York, where anything can be seen at one time or another, this car is attracting attention. Young Driver Loses Permit For Speeding

Declaring "You were flirting with death!" Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered a 45-day suspension in the operator's permit of a 19-year-old Wellsville driver who pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 90 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd.

He meted out the penalty to William W. Bowers, 1207 Clover St., who was cited by the State Highway Patrol Saturday at 12:30 a.m. The judge said he decided on the suspension rather than a fine because Bowers is a college student "and I don't want to take money out of your mother's pocket."

The judge said Bowers' high speed jeopardized his own life and the life of the officer who pursued him.

Samuel Heaton, 1822 Nevada St., Wellsville, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the same stretch. He was cited by the patrol Thursday at 5:30 a. m. Queried by the court, Heaton said he was on his way to work and "there was no one else on the highway but me."

The court granted a continuance until Nov. 19 in the case of Robert C. Wick of Mineral Ridge, arrested Sept. 5 at 9:30 p. m. by the patrol on a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 30. The judge said the defendant is a college student and asked a continuance until he is on vacation.

SCS Names 2 For Board

LISBON — Two were elected to the Board of Supervisors of the Columbiana County Soil and Water Conservation Service Thursday night at a dinner at the Fairfield Methodist Church.

Dawson Irey of Guilford Lake, Butler Township, was elected to his third three-year term and Paul Zehentbauer of Hanoverton was named a new member to replace James Ewing, who recently resigned. Zehentbauer represents Hanover Township.

Other members of the board are John Brothers, Walter Coie and Robert Harold.

Lee Haynam of East Rochester was named "Farmer of the Year."

County Buys New Highway Tractor

LISBON — The Columbiana County Commissioners Thursday approved three travel allowances and the purchase of a tractor.

The tractor, a $4,700 model with a loader and a back hoe, was purchased from the McMillan Tractor Sales of Tippecanoe for the County Highway department.

The travel allowances included $18 for Mrs. Theda Thornton to attend a meeting in Massillon Oct. 29 of the North East District of the Public Health Association; $15 for Commissioners James Boyd and Frank Wilson to attend a meeting Oct. 12 of the State Housing Authority in Columbus, and $175 for four employes of the County Welfare Department to attend a welfare conference in Cincinnati Oct. 25-27.

The latter travel allowance was approved on the recommendation of Robert Bycroft, county welfare director.

Water

city, with a population of over 5,000. Any subdivision of 5,000 or more has the status of a city under Ohio law, provided it's incorporated.

Bloomgren said the water demand would grow slowly over the five - year period.

Duke said it will be necessary sooner or later to build additional capacity into the water department's Beechwood pumping station, which lifts water into the two standpipes on Henry Ave., North Side. In supplying the new district, water will flow out of the two Henry Ave. standpipes to the contemplated standpipe on the Oakmont hill.

IN ADDITION to the changes at Beechwood, it also will be necessary to provide a pumping facility to force water from the Henry Ave. standpipes to the authority's standpipe on the Oakmont hill, Duke said.

Duke said the pumping station on Haywood St., Beechwood, is equipped with two pumps that each have a capacity of 700 gallons a minute. But there is a heavy drain on the Henry Ave. standpipes and the booster pumps now operate 19 hours a day, he said. He said their service is no more than adequate during hot summer weather when water use is high.

He said a pump would be necessary at the Henry Ave. standpipes to deliver water with adequate pressure to serve outer St. Clair Ave. and supply the new standpipe in Oakmont. At present, if a fire hydrant is opened on the Oakmont hill and another is turned on at some point closer to the Henry Ave. standpipe, the plug at the Oakmont hill goes "dry" for lack of adequate volume, Duke said.

There also was discussion on the possibility of inter-connecting the city system and the St. Clair authority. This would be accomplished by running a main from the standpipe on Substation Rd. to connect with the present end of the city line on Lisbon St. Ext. at the so-called "cut" near Westfield Rd. However, no definite decision was reached on the question of inter-connection.

As the discussion neared an end, Duke agreed to study the plans for the St. Clair system drawn by Bloomgren and determine what changes would be necessary — now and in the future — in the city's setup in order to deliver the water. He said he should be able to arrive at a decision within a week. Bloomgren said he will give Duke a copy of the plans today.

GARD ASKED Cooper if he could prepare legislation for Council's next meeting Nov. 1 authorizing the sale of water, provided Council is satisfied with the arrangements as it develops.

Cooper replied that he could have the legislation ready by that time "provided everyone does his part and all the pieces fall into place in sufficient time prior to the Council meeting." He said the resolution would authorize the sale of water and spell out the terms of the contract between the utilities board and the county authority.

Since the demand for water is expected to grow gradually over a period of months or years, the city might not have to make the modifications in its system on a full-scale basis immediately, Duke said. He said it might be possible that the additions would "be minimized at the outset."

Queried by Council, Bloomgren said plans call for a fire hydrant every 700 feet along the St. Clair lines. Duke said that provision will mean a big saving in fire insurance rates for the township residents.

He said he believes fire insurance rates are 18 per cent lower for householders whose properties are located within 1,000 feet of a hydrant. The township now has few, if any, hydrants, but depends upon water hauled in tanker trucks by volunteer fire departments.

Bloomgren told Duke it probably will be March of next year before the new authority is ready to buy the first water from the city.

"The people out there are screaming for water," Gard told Council. "We want to get this project started — let a contract, dig the ditches and get some pipes laid."

GARD SAID the commissioners originally believed they would be able to let contracts for the system in October, "but now it seems little will be done this winter."

Cunningham said he understands the utilities board expects to sell water to the authority at a rate 50 per cent above the charges inside the city limits.

Cloran said that report is incorrect. He said the board contemplates selling the water at a rate 50 per cent higher than the basic cost of processing it. For instance, the cost of processing 1,000 gallons now is 30 cents, he said. If it is sold at 50 per cent over that figure, the rate would be 45 cents per 1,000 gallons, he said.

Bloomgren commented that the question of modifications in the city's system "didn't seem to be a particular problem when we discussed this question previously."

Duke replied that the modifications might not be a problem on the first day of the operation of the new authority, "but I can see it growing over the months or years."

Cloran said he believes the price of water for the authority should be based on some sort of sliding scale at the outset, when demand is small. Gard said he would have no objection to such an arrangement.

Engineer Given Bids On Midland Truck Purchase

The Midland Municipal Authority authorized Michael Baker Jr., Inc., consulting engineers, to act on three projects at a meeting Wednesday in the Municipal Building.

The authority turned over bids for a half-ton pickup truck received from Midland Auto Sales — $2,600 — and Migliore Ford Sales — $2,625 — to the Baker firm for tabulation and recommendation.

The consulting engineer was authorized to advertise for bids for garage and storage space at the filtration plant.

The authority also directed Baker to draw up preliminary plans for storage space at the sewage treatment plant.

In other business, the authority approved payment of $29,524 in general bills.

Dr. Zanvil Sigal, chairman, presided.

The next meeting will be Nov. 17.

Officers Cite 3 In Hancock

West Virginia State Police and the Hancock County sheriff's department staged a joint raid Thursday night at the Win, Place and Show night club on Route 30 along the Chester area "Strip" and cited three persons on various charges.

Acting on search and seizure warrants, the raiding party confiscated a poker table and 25 partial bottles of liquor.

John Gillis, pleading "no defense," was fined $100 and costs by Squire John D. Herron at New Cumberland for exhibiting a gaming device and signed a waiver for its destruction. George Moore was assed the same amount on an identical charge.

Jean Gillis, a waitress, was fined $50 and costs for the sale of alcoholic liquor and John Gillis was fined an additional $50 and costs for possessing alcoholic liquor. All the defendants are of the Chester vicinity.

The raid was staged about 9.

Car Theft

fled on foot, with the officer in pursuit. Hayes said he lost Boyd on Erie St. after a chase through backyards.

Then Boyd returned to the car and headed east on Pennsylvania Ave. Hayes spotted the fleeing car and gave chase. He nabbed Boyd the second time on the Ohio River bank at Smiths Ferry.

Boyd was turned over to Beaver County authorities for possible prosecution under the federal law that prohibits transportation of a stolen motor vehicle across state lines. But the case was dropped when Mrs. Ferrebee declined to prosecute. Hayes then filed the charges in the local court.

Before sentencing Boyd, the judge commented the record shows the man has been arrested in the last three years on charges of auto theft — which were dropped — reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident and disturbing and frightening the occupants of a dwelling, an ancient city ordinance.

New Indexing System Okayed For Recorder

LISBON — The Columbiana County commissioners have signed a contract with the Cott Data Processing Co. of Columbus for the installation of new indexing system in the recorder's office.

The system will cost $3,428 for one year, effective Jan. 1. The commissioners stressed that the system is being paid through funds originally allocated to the recorder's office.

County Recorder John P. Wargo said the present system has been modified only slightly since its beginning. "Since our county now contains approximately 107,000 residents, we have outgrown a system which was sufficient in years past when the load of documents being made a matter of public record was only a fraction of the present demand on the recorder's office."

The data processing method involves a speedup of the actual indexing, a copy of the records being sent to Columbus for processing there by putting all data on punch-tape, then onto punch-cards and finally onto magnetic tape for security purposes, Wargo explained.

The information then can be fed into IBM equipment and will make possible the printing and regrouping of all data onto new records for the county. These new record books can be printed by the IBM machines upon the request of the recorder or when local attorneys and abstractors express a desire for them, Wargo said.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis also has signed the contract between the county and the company.

Wargo and Robert Kapp, president of the county bar association, met Thursday with the commissioners, urging acceptance of the new system.

erties, living up to his Klan oath of secrecy and declared:

"How many members of Congress would allow them to browbeat them into violating their oaths as Masons, Knights of Columbus or B'nai B'rith?"

Shelton himself had been dismissed by the committee until Nov. 15. But he came back Thursday to listen when the committee questioned two of his grand dragons — James R. Jones of North Carolina and Marshall R. Kornegay of Virginia.

As it had been in Shelton's case, both declined to respond to a long list of queries that focused on alleged misuse of Klan funds, of Klan officials going into the insurance business, of tapping the membership to purchase a Cadillac for Jones.

For the first time, however, the inquiry edged into violence and harassment.

Committee Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., said the probe would go into that subject more deeply later, but he read from what he indicated was a Klan docmuent entitled "Harassment."

"All members," it said, "should devise new means. They should have a humorous twist in the nature of Halloween pranks."

The booklet gave 16 do-it-yourself suggestions, including use of sugar and molasses in gas tanks, tear gas, fireworks — and stuffing dead rats and headless chickens into mail boxes.

The committee also charged that an exalted cyclops in North Carolina, Raymond Mills, had pleaded guilty to a series of bombings around New Bern, N.C., but still remained in the Klan despite the KKK's contention it is against violence.

Plans Completed For Oct. 31 Party At Lawrenceville

Final plans for the Columbiana County Democratic Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner Wednesday at Beaver Local High School were made at a meeting of the party executive and central committees Thursday night at the headquarters at Lisbon.

Sixty - five attended the meeting at which details were mapped for the dinner at which Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien and Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman, will speak.

Don R. Gosney, county chairman, said Fr. William Homan of St. George's Catholic Church at Lisbon will give the invocation at the dinner and the Rev. Ralph Green of the Lisbon Presbyterian Church the benediction.

The group last night endorsed the proposed 1-mill levy for the County Retarded Children's School.

Traffic Light Request Traced Back To 1947

Police Capt. Robert B. Pyle today produced newspaper clippings showing that the traffic signal erected Tuesday at Glenmoor first was requested in 1947 after a fatal truck-auto crash.

The newspaper story shows that a movement for erection of the signal at the junction of State Route 267 and the Y. & O. Rd. began 18 years ago—the day a Glenmoor man was killed when his car was struck by a steel truck which crashed a stop sign at the intersection.

The State Highway Department, yielding to many requests over the years, erected the signal three days ago.

Queried by the court, Heaton said he was on his way to work and "there was no one else on the highway but me."

The court granted a continuance until Nov. 19 in the case of Robert C. Wick of Mineral Ridge, arrested Sept. 5 at 9:30 p. m. by the patrol on a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 30. The judge said the defendant is a college student and asked a continuance until he is on vacation.

SCS Names 2 For Board

LISBON — Two were elected to the Board of Supervisors of the Columbiana County Soil and Water Conservation Service Thursday night at a dinner at the Fairfield Methodist Church.

Dawson Irey of Guilford Lake, Butler Township, was elected to his third three-year term and Paul Zehentbauer of Hanoverton was named a new member to replace James Ewing, who recently resigned. Zehentbauer represents Hanover Township.

Other members of the board are John Brothers, Walter Coie and Robert Harold.

Lee Haynam of East Rochester was named "Farmer of the Year."

County Buys New Highway Tractor

LISBON — The Columbiana County Commissioners Thursday approved three travel allowances and the purchase of a tractor.

The tractor, a $4,700 model with a loader and a back hoe, was purchased from the McMillan Tractor Sales of Tippecanoe for the County Highway department.

The travel allowances included $18 for Mrs. Theda Thornton to attend a meeting in Massillon Oct. 29 of the North East District of the Public Health Association; $15 for Commissioners James Boyd and Frank Wilson to attend a meeting Oct. 12 of the State Housing Authority in Columbus, and $175 for four employes of the County Welfare Department to attend a welfare conference in Cincinnati Oct. 25-27.

The latter travel allowance was approved on the recommendation of Robert Bycroft, county welfare director.

Water

city, with a population of over 5,000. Any subdivision of 5,000 or more has the status of a city under Ohio law, provided it's incorporated.

Bloomgren said the water demand would grow slowly over the five - year period.

Duke said it will be necessary sooner or later to build additional capacity into the water department's Beechwood pumping station, which lifts water into the two standpipes on Henry Ave., North Side. In supplying the new district, water will flow out of the two Henry Ave. standpipes to the contemplated standpipe on the Oakmont hill.

IN ADDITION to the changes at Beechwood, it also will be necessary to provide a pumping facility to force water from the Henry Ave. standpipes to the authority's standpipe on the Oakmont hill, Duke said.

Duke said the pumping station on Haywood St., Beechwood, is equipped with two pumps that each have a capacity of 700 gallons a minute. But there is a heavy drain on the Henry Ave. standpipes and the booster pumps now operate 19 hours a day, he said. He said their service is no more than adequate during hot summer weather when water use is high.

He said a pump would be necessary at the Henry Ave. standpipes to deliver water with adequate pressure to serve outer St. Clair Ave. and supply the new standpipe in Oakmont. At present, if a fire hydrant is opened on the Oakmont hill and another is turned on at some point closer to the Henry Ave. standpipe, the plug at the Oakmont hill goes "dry" for lack of adequate volume, Duke said.

There also was discussion on the possibility of inter-connecting the city system and the St. Clair authority. This would be accomplished by running a main from the standpipe on Substation Rd. to connect with the present end of the city line on Lisbon St. Ext. at the so-called "cut" near Westfield Rd. However, no definite decision was reached on the question of inter-connection.

As the discussion neared an end, Duke agreed to study the plans for the St. Clair system drawn by Bloomgren and determine what changes would be necessary — now and in the future — in the city's setup in order to deliver the water. He said he should be able to arrive at a decision within a week. Bloomgren said he will give Duke a copy of the plans today.

GARD ASKED Cooper if he could prepare legislation for Council's next meeting Nov. 1 authorizing the sale of water, provided Council is satisfied with the arrangements as it develops.

Cooper replied that he could have the legislation ready by that time "provided everyone does his part and all the pieces fall into place in sufficient time prior to the Council meeting." He said the resolution would authorize the sale of water and spell out the terms of the contract between the utilities board and the county authority.

Since the demand for water is expected to grow gradually over a period of months or years, the city might not have to make the modifications in its system on a full-scale basis immediately, Duke said. He said it might be possible that the additions would "be minimized at the outset."

Queried by Council, Bloomgren said plans call for a fire hydrant every 700 feet along the St. Clair lines. Duke said that provision will mean a big saving in fire insurance rates for the township residents.

He said he believes fire insurance rates are 18 per cent lower for householders whose properties are located within 1,000 feet of a hydrant. The township now has few, if any, hydrants, but depends upon water hauled in tanker trucks by volunteer fire departments.

Bloomgren told Duke it probably will be March of next year before the new authority is ready to buy the first water from the city.

"The people out there are screaming for water," Gard told Council. "We want to get this project started — let a contract, dig the ditches and get some pipes laid."

GARD SAID the commissioners originally believed they would be able to let contracts for the system in October, "but now it seems little will be done this winter."

Cunningham said he understands the utilities board expects to sell water to the authority at a rate 50 per cent above the charges inside the city limits.

Cloran said that report is incorrect. He said the board contemplates selling the water at a rate 50 per cent higher than the basic cost of processing it. For instance, the cost of processing 1,000 gallons now is 30 cents, he said. If it is sold at 50 per cent over that figure, the rate would be 45 cents per 1,000 gallons, he said.

Bloomgren commented that the question of modifications in the city's system "didn't seem to be a particular problem when we discussed this question previously."

Duke replied that the modifications might not be a problem on the first day of the operation of the new authority, "but I can see it growing over the months or years."

Cloran said he believes the price of water for the authority should be based on some sort of sliding scale at the outset, when demand is small. Gard said he would have no objection to such an arrangement.

Engineer Given Bids On Midland Truck Purchase

The Midland Municipal Authority authorized Michael Baker Jr., Inc., consulting engineers, to act on three projects at a meeting Wednesday in the Municipal Building.

The authority turned over bids for a half-ton pickup truck received from Midland Auto Sales — $2,600 — and Migliore Ford Sales — $2,625 — to the Baker firm for tabulation and recommendation.

The consulting engineer was authorized to advertise for bids for garage and storage space at the filtration plant.

The authority also directed Baker to draw up preliminary plans for storage space at the sewage treatment plant.

In other business, the authority approved payment of $29,524 in general bills.

Dr. Zanvil Sigal, chairman, presided.

The next meeting will be Nov. 17.

Officers Cite 3 In Hancock

West Virginia State Police and the Hancock County sheriff's department staged a joint raid Thursday night at the Win, Place and Show night club on Route 30 along the Chester area "Strip" and cited three persons on various charges.

Acting on search and seizure warrants, the raiding party confiscated a poker table and 25 partial bottles of liquor.

John Gillis, pleading "no defense," was fined $100 and costs by Squire John D. Herron at New Cumberland for exhibiting a gaming device and signed a waiver for its destruction. George Moore was assessed the same amount on an identical charge.

Jean Gillis, a waitress, was fined $50 and costs for the sale of alcoholic liquor and John Gillis was fined an additional $50 and costs for possessing alcoholic liquor. All the defendants are of the Chester vicinity.

The raid was staged about 9.

fled on foot, with the officer in pursuit. Hayes said he lost Boyd on Erie St. after a chase through backyards.

Then Boyd returned to the car and headed east on Pennsylvania Ave. Hayes spotted the fleeing car and gave chase. He nabbed Boyd the second time on the Ohio River bank at Smiths Ferry.

Boyd was turned over to Beaver County authorities for possible prosecution under the federal law that prohibits transportation of a stolen motor vehicle across state lines. But the case was dropped when Mrs. Ferrebee declined to prosecute. Hayes then filed the charges in the local court.

Before sentencing Boyd, the judge commented the record shows the man has been arrested in the last three years on charges of auto theft — which were dropped — reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident and disturbing and frightening the occupants of a dwelling, an ancient city ordinance.

New Indexing System Okayed For Recorder

LISBON — The Columbiana County commissioners have signed a contract with the Cott Data Processing Co. of Columbus for the installation of new indexing system in the recorder's office.

The system will cost $3,428 for one year, effective Jan. 1. The commissioners stressed that the system is being paid through funds originally allocated to the recorder's office.

County Recorder John P. Wargo said the present system has been modified only slightly since its beginning. "Since our county now contains approximately 107,000 residents, we have outgrown a system which was sufficient in years past when the load of documents being made a matter of public record was only a fraction of the present demand on the recorder's office."

The data processing method involves a speedup of the actual indexing, a copy of the records being sent to Columbus for processing there by putting all data on punch-tape, then onto punch-cards and finally onto magnetic tape for security purposes, Wargo explained.

The information then can be fed into IBM equipment and will make possible the printing and regrouping of all data onto new records for the county. These new record books can be printed by the IBM machines upon the request of the recorder or when local attorneys and abstractors express a desire for them, Wargo said.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis also has signed the contract between the county and the company.

Wargo and Robert Kapp, president of the county bar association, met Thursday with the commissioners, urging acceptance of the new system.

erties, living up to his Klan oath of secrecy and declared:

"How many members of Congress would allow them to browbeat them into violating their oaths as Masons, Knights of Columbus or B'nai B'rith?"

Shelton himself had been dismissed by the committee until Nov. 15. But he came back Thursday to listen when the committee questioned two of his grand dragons — James R. Jones of North Carolina and Marshall R. Kornegay of Virginia.

As it had been in Shelton's case, both declined to respond to a long list of queries that focused on alleged misuse of Klan funds, of Klan officials going into the insurance business, of tapping the membership to purchase a Cadillac for Jones.

For the first time, however, the inquiry edged into violence and harassment.

Committee Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., said the probe would go into that subject more deeply later, but he read from what he indicated was a Klan docmuent entitled "Harassment."

"All members," it said, "should devise new means. They should have a humorous twist in the nature of Halloween pranks."

The booklet gave 16 do-it-yourself suggestions, including use of sugar and molasses in gas tanks, tear gas, fireworks — and stuffing dead rats and headless chickens into mail boxes.

The committee also charged that an exalted cyclops in North Carolina, Raymond Mills, had pleaded guilty to a series of bombings around New Bern, N.C., but still remained in the Klan despite the KKK's contention it is against violence.

Plans Completed For Oct. 31 Party At Lawrenceville

Final plans for the Columbiana County Democratic Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner Wednesday at Beaver Local High School were made at a meeting of the party executive and central committees Thursday night at the headquarters at Lisbon.

Sixty - five attended the meeting at which details were mapped for the dinner at which Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien and Rep. Wayne L. Hays, 18th District congressman, will speak.

Don R. Gosney, county chairman, said Fr. William Homan of St. George's Catholic Church at Lisbon will give the invocation at the dinner and the Rev. Ralph Green of the Lisbon Presbyterian Church the benediction.

The group last night endorsed the proposed 1-mill levy for the County Retarded Children's School.

Traffic Light Request Traced Back To 1947

Police Capt. Robert B. Pyle today produced newspaper clippings showing that the traffic signal erected Tuesday at Glenmoor first was requested in 1947 after a fatal truck-auto crash.

The newspaper story shows that a movement for erection of the signal at the junction of State Route 267 and the Y. & O. Rd. began 18 years ago—the day a Glenmoor man was killed when his car was struck by a steel truck which crashed a stop sign at the intersection.

The State Highway Department, yielding to many requests over the years, erected the signal three days ago.

Blair Emphasizes Need Of Teacher Pay Boost

The need to obtain better qualified teachers in the face of competition from other school districts with higher salary schedules was emphasized by East Liverpool Supt. Paul Blair at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Blair outlined the problem of retaining good teachers and employing qualified instructors in a request for public support of the proposed 3.5-mill school levy on the Nov. 2 election ballot.

HE POINTED out East Liverpool lost 24 teachers to other districts last year and 30 left their jobs the previous year, some to retire.

He spoke of visiting various colleges in an effort to recruit new teachers, but failed because none of the students was interested in East Liverpool's starting salary for an instructor with a bachelor's degree — $4,300.

Higher salaries are paid not only at Cleveland and Akron, where there are larger and wealthier districts, but also in Midland, Beaver Local and in Hancock County, Blair said.

The salaries paid city instructors are spaced over a 12-month period, even though they are employed for nine months. However, Blair said the school year has just been extended four more days and within eight or 10 years it may be 10 months.

With summer school, our schools will be in operation the year 'round, he said.

BLAIR, WHO has been here for 11 years, said he has noted much improvement in the academic and physical aspects of the school system, during that time.

He said, "Within three years, East Liverpool will have the finest physical system in Ohio, with new elementary schools and a high school.

"The schools may not have the frills some wealthier districts enjoy, but ours will be the best available within our limits. The oldest school will be East Junior High, which doesn't seem to be the 10 years old it is.

"But to keep a school system growing requires more than new buildings.

"We have to improve our teacher situation in order to keep providing the best education for our children."

Blair pointed out 35 of the 232 instructors in the district do not have college degrees. He added that 20 members of the staff are of the age they could retire this year and 25 have been teaching for over 25 years and could retire.

BLAIR SAID the $200 increase granted all districts in Ohio has not helped East Liverpool, because the salary schedules of competing districts also were boosted.

The proposed levy would cost only 27 cents a week for the average home owner in the school district. "This amounts to a few cups of coffee or beverage, and is a small cost when one considers the welfare of our children's education is at stake," he concluded.

Blair was introduced by Alex Kidd, president.

Collin Neal, chairman of the club's pancake supper Dec. 4, said James Reaney will serve as ticket chairman for the event.

Harold Allison, chairman of the rummage sale to be held Thursday through Saturday next week, requested items for the sale in a storeroom at E. 6th and Washington Sts.

GE Will Start Marketing New Line Of Bulbs

CLEVELAND (AP) — General Electric Co. will begin marketing next January a new line of lamp bulbs it calls "the most efficient general lighting lamps known to man."

The new lamps—named Lucalox after the ceramic material used in the cigar-sized arc tube containing sodium vapor—provide light with color quality superior to incandescent and fluorescent types, GE said.

The first bulb marketed will be a 400-watt size, will cost $25 and be for commercial and industrial users. Initial use, GE said, would be in stadiums, factories, parking lots, golf courses, shopping centers and street lighting.

Eventually, smaller sizes may be developed for home lighting, T. M. Wallace, general manager of GE's Large Lamp Department, told a news conference at the General Electric Nela Park facility here Thursday.

BLAIR, WHO has been here for 11 years, said he has noted much improvement in the academic and physical aspects of the school system, during that time.

He said, "Within three years, East Liverpool will have the finest physical system in Ohio, with new elementary schools and a high school.

"The schools may not have the frills some wealthier districts enjoy, but ours will be the best available within our limits. The oldest school will be East Junior High, which doesn't seem to be the 10 years old it is.

"But to keep a school system growing requires more than new buildings.

"We have to improve our teacher situation in order to keep providing the best education for our children."

Blair pointed out 35 of the 232 instructors in the district do not have college degrees. He added that 20 members of the staff are of the age they could retire this year and 25 have been teaching for over 25 years and could retire.

BLAIR SAID the $200 increase granted all districts in Ohio has not helped East Liverpool, because the salary schedules of competing districts also were boosted.

The proposed levy would cost only 27 cents a week for the average home owner in the school district. "This amounts to a few cups of coffee or beverage, and is a small cost when one considers the welfare of our children's education is at stake," he concluded.

Blair was introduced by Alex Kidd, president.

Collin Neal, chairman of the club's pancake supper Dec. 4, said James Reaney will serve as ticket chairman for the event.

Harold Allison, chairman of the rummage sale to be held Thursday through Saturday next week, requested items for the sale in a storeroom at E. 6th and Washington Sts.

GE Will Start Marketing New Line Of Bulbs

CLEVELAND (AP) — General Electric Co. will begin marketing next January a new line of lamp bulbs it calls "the most efficient general lighting lamps known to man."

The new lamps—named Lucalox after the ceramic material used in the cigar-sized arc tube containing sodium vapor—provide light with color quality superior to incandescent and fluorescent types, GE said.

The first bulb marketed will be a 400-watt size, will cost $25 and be for commercial and industrial users. Initial use, GE said, would be in stadiums, factories, parking lots, golf courses, shopping centers and street lighting.

Eventually, smaller sizes may be developed for home lighting, T. M. Wallace, general manager of GE's Large Lamp Department, told a news conference at the General Electric Nela Park facility here Thursday.

Gilliland Will Head Delinquency Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Rep. Roy J. Gilliland, R-Jackson, will head a special legislative committee investigating juvenile delinquency in Ohio.

Committee members were named Thursday by Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray R-Miami, who said the committee will report to the 1967 Legislature.

In addition to Gilliland, the committee will include Sens. Thomas P. Gilmartin, D-Mahoning, and Jim Thorpe, R-Stark, along with Reps. William T. Allom, D-Carroll; Dale Locker, D-Shelby; Kenneth B. Creasey, R-Delaware, and Chalmers P. Wylie, R-Franklin.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Lander: Three weeks ago my wife died from an overdose of sleeping pills. I knew she was unhappy and unwell but I had no idea she wanted to kill herself.

What shall I tell our two chilren? They are 5 and 3 years of age. It's hard enough to explain a mother's natural death to youngsters but how does one explain suicide?

I want to tell them their mommy was sick and God took her away. My mother-in-law insists I tell them the truth. She says if I don't tell them they will find out later and it could cause serious problems. Please give me some guidance. — TORTURED.

Dear Tortured: This is your decision, not your mother-in-law's, and I hope she will allow you to handle it in your own way.

Very young children understand a great deal more than most adults give them credit for. A 5-year-old is able to comprehend death and the 3-year-old will get the idea sooner than you think.

Tell them Mommy took the wrong medicine and it made her very sick and God called her to heaven. Whenever possible it's best to let the children believe a parent's suicide was accidental.

Home In West

Dear Ann: In 1961 our little family moved West. I have invited my grandparents whom I call Mom and Dad (they raised me) to spend two weeks with us every November around Thanksgiving. I know they look forward to it all year.

Our children adore them and even our friends and neighbors have taken Mom and Dad to their hearts.

My husband resents these wonderful folks. When I ask him why, he simply says, "I can't stand old people. They are boring and tiresome."

My in-laws are cold and uncommunicative. I've written them several times, inviting them to visit us. They have given me a chilly, "No, thank you." His whole family is like that. The only time they get together is at funerals.

Last night our children began to discuss plans for entertaining Mom and Dad. My husband was more critical and unpleasant than ever. What shall I say to him? — MUCH DISTRESSED.

Dear Distressed: Save your pipes. Nothing you say will make any difference.

Unfortunately, your husband never had a decent relationship with his own family and he can't understand yours. Ask him if he would like someone to shoot him when he reaches his 50th birthday to make sure he doesn't become "boring and tiresome."

Orchid For Ann?

Dear Ann: I think it is simply disgraceful the way people write and call you a crummy old bat and a miserable old witch.

If they have such a poor opinion of you, why do they write for advice? It seems to me that they can't face up to their weaknesses and they don't want to hear the truth about themselves.

When you give them your honest opinion, and it doesn't square with what they want to hear, they get mad at you and call you names.

I think it's time someone wrote and told you how much they appreciate your wit and wisdom. You deserve a medal for reading all that mail and coming up with such wonderful advice — day after day and year after year.

Your column is a must in our family. The day wouldn't be complete without it. You are as sound as the Liberty Bell.— CANADIAN ADMIRERS.

Dear Admirers: I think I ought to tell you the Liberty Bell is cracked. Are you trying to tell me something?

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Parking Lot Payment Set For Cleveland U.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland State University has been authorized to pay to the 2100 Euclid Corp. up to $3,232,000 for a 6.9-acre parking lot needed for development of the new state institution.

The State Controlling Board set the figure at a meeting Thursday and said it was about $500,000 less than a $3.7 million option obtained last year by Fenn College which is being taken over by Cleveland State.

U.S. Bombing Concentrates On Rail Lines

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. bombing has been concentrating heavily in the past several weeks on railroad lines linking North Viet Nam's capital with Red China, U.S. officials said today.

What gives this pattern of attack significance is that this single-track line is the major rail connection between parts of Communist China. Trains bound from one part of southern China to another must travel through Hanoi.

Thus, in addition to impeding the movement of Chinese aid into North Viet Nam, the U.S. bombing may also be disrupting Chinese communications to some extent.

U.S. jets have been hitting repeatedly at tracks, bridges and yards along the rail route extending to the northeast and northwest from Hanoi. Highways and highway bridges also have been smashed.

Officials disclosed this while disputing allegations by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, retired Air Force chief of staff, that not enough air power is being used in the Viet Nam war.

LeMay, former head of the Strategic Air Command, told a luncheon Thursday honoring him as winner of the 1965 Collier Trophy that because of a hold-back in air power "there are people still getting killed who shouldn't be killed."

The U.S. officials defended U.S. bombing policy, saying it has been directed at destroying military targets and trying to stop the flow of men and arms into South Viet Nam, rather than being an offensive to destroy North Viet Nam's economy.

These officials described the bombing as pursuing "limited objectives." Citing results, they said 130 bridges — important links on roads and railroads — have been made impassable.

About 90 per cent of the traffic in Communist soldiers and weapons bound for South Viet Nam travels over North Viet Nam's rail and road network, these officials estimated.

Thursday, officals also reported —

More than 20 sites for Soviet-built antiaircraft missiles have been spotted in North Viet Nam. Most are not operational.

About 25,000 Viet Cong soldiers have been killed in Viet Nam this year, but despite the losses the number of Communist regular and irregular troops has increased in the past four months. Last year's Viet Cong losses were placed at 17,000.

Twenty-eight American servicemen were killed in action in the week ended last Monday. Since January 1961, 830 Americans have been killed.

And, in a Senate speech, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., said there are clear signs Viet Cong morale is beginning to crack. The Communists, he said, now realize they cannot win the war and "hope to achieve at the conference table the victory which has been denied them on the field of battle."

'Top Priority' Being Urged For OSU Journalism Office

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The chairman of a professional advisory council to Ohio State University's School of Journalism has told University President Novice G. Fawcett that a new journalism building should receive "top priority" attention.

Philip W. Porter, executive editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, told Dr. Fawcett in a letter that the present facilities are "totally inadequate" and a "disgrace."

He said students and staff are so overcrowded they are practically sitting in each other's laps.

Typewriters are scarce and poor in quality, the building is not airconditioned although it is used the year around, and restrooms are "woefully inadequate," he said.

"The press," Porter said, "is the same piece of ancient equipment which was inadequate when many of us were undergraduates 35 to 45 years ago, yet is expected now to run off 22,000 copies of the Lantern each publication day."

The Cleveland editor urged Fawcett to put the matter before the next Legislature.

In money terms the request is not high, he said, since Ohio State now has available more funds for building than at any time in the last 50 years.

Porter's letter included words of praise for the teaching staff and for the Lantern, Ohio State's daily student publication.

He said the faculty has done an excellent job of training students to produce a daily that is a first-rate training ground.

The Lantern, he said, is "probably the best campus daily in the country," although produced under "well-nigh impossible conditions."

"The vigor of writing, impartiality in editing and courage in reporting both sides of controversial matters are first rate," Porter said.

On Rhodesia Negotiations

Wilson Faces Toughest Assignment As Premier

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson cleared his desk at No. 10 Downing St. today before taking off for Rhodesia on the toughest assignment of his year in office.

Wilson may fly to the central African colony Saturday.

Wilson messaged Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith Thursday that he planned to fly to Salisbury "in the next day or two" to renew negotiations on the demand for independence by the self-governing colony's ruling white minority.

Wilson said he planned to talk not only to Smith, but also to anyone else "whose views I feel to be relevant to a solution of this grave problem."

Officials said he would see former Prime Minister R. S. Garfield Todd, who was put under house arrest a few days ago, and African nationalist leaders Joshua Nkomo and Rev. Ndabaningi Sithole, who have been in dentention camps for four months.

Wilson's message was in reply to a letter from Smith asking Britain to grant Rhodesia independence on the basis of its present constitution and trust the whites to do right by the Negro majority. Wilson said he could not agree to this.

"You will forgive me if I say that the detention or restriction over a long period of nationalist leaders, the recent restriction of a former prime minister, the banning of a prominent newspaper have suggested to the outside world the pattern of what might happen in the future," Wilson said.

Independence talks broke down last week after Britain insisted that Rhodesia's 4 million black Africans be given a voice in the government and guarantees of ultimate control. The colony is now governed by its 250,000 whites.

Smith has threatened to declare independence without Britain's consent. He announced on Wednesday that his Cabinet had made a decision on the issue, but so far he has refused to make the decision public.

In Salisbury, Smith said he accepted Wilson's proposal to visit the Rhodesian capital and "he may see anybody he wishes."

U.S. Bombing Concentrates On Rail Lines

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. bombing has been concentrating heavily in the past several weeks on railroad lines linking North Viet Nam's capital with Red China, U.S. officials said today.

What gives this pattern of attack significance is that this single-track line is the major rail connection between parts of Communist China. Trains bound from one part of southern China to another must travel through Hanoi.

Thus, in addition to impeding the movement of Chinese aid into North Viet Nam, the U.S. bombing may also be disrupting Chinese communications to some extent.

U.S. jets have been hitting repeatedly at tracks, bridges and yards along the rail route extending to the northeast and northwest from Hanoi. Highways and highway bridges also have been smashed.

Officials disclosed this while disputing allegations by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, retired Air Force chief of staff, that not enough air power is being used in the Viet Nam war.

LeMay, former head of the Strategic Air Command, told a luncheon Thursday honoring him as winner of the 1965 Collier Trophy that because of a holdback in air power "there are people still getting killed who shouldn't be killed."

Rare Legal Maneuver

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

High Court Asked To Declare Voting Law Legal

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a rare legal move, the federal government has asked the Supreme Court to declare constitutional the controversial provisions of the 11-week-old voting rights law.

And the Justice Department urged the court to stop what it called efforts of three Southern states — Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi — to obstruct enforcement of the new law.

Because of the importance of the case — and in order to assure a final decision before primary elections in the three states next spring and summer — Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach asked the Supreme Court Thursday to assert original jurisdiction.

In effect, this short-circuits the federal judicial process by skipping U.S. district and appellate courts — where litigation could easily consume a full year — and placing the case immediately in the hands of the highest court.

The Justice Department specifically asked the court to affirm the constitutionality of those provisions of the act suspending literacy tests, authorizing federal registrars and requiring local registrars to enroll those voters approved by the federal officials.

The court was asked to give the case speedy handling, with an eye to hearing arguments by January.

At Baton Rouge, Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion said the request for the court ruling was "the most communistic move on the part of the federal government that I ever heard of. The Justice Department seeks to obviate the very government under which it exists."

A rarely invoked clause in Article 3 of the U.S. Constitution provides for Supreme Court assertion of original jurisdiction "in all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a state may be a party."

It is only the 15th time in history that the government has sought a first hearing in the Supreme Court. It has yet to be turned down. The last instance was in 1949, when it brought suit against Texas and Louisiana in a dispute over tideland oil and gas rights.

In their brief to the court, Katzenbach and Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall contend state courts in the three states are obstructing enforcement of the law by ordering registrars not to enroll the names of eligible voters registered by federal examiners.

These examiners have been ordered into 20 counties under the new law. For purposes of the legal action, the government says federal examiners registered 46,000 voters in 14 counties by the end of September — yet "no person certified by the examiners has been placed on the state lists."

While it would be just as proper to initiate its action in U.S. district courts, the government said, full participation in 1966 primary elections — May in Alabama, June in Mississippi and August in Louisiana — might be denied by the time-consuming process.

Katzenbach also disclosed that the Justice Department will take action to "eliminate bias and prejudice" in the Southern jury system. He would not give details of the department's plans.

But he said a little-used civil rights law from the Reconstruction era — making racial discrimination in the selection of federal and state jurors a crime punishable by a $5,000 fine — will be exhumed to aid the effort.

JOHN F. MISITIGH is serving as manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.'s East Liverpool district office, having succeeded William A. Kent, who was transferred to the management of the Lakeport district in Toledo. Misitigh is a native of Akron.

Special Session Requested Again On Reapportion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Sen. Danny D. Johnson, D-Tuscarawas, has asked Gov. James A. Rhodes for the second time to call a special legislative session to work out Ohio reapportionment.

Johnson said in a letter to the GOP governor Thursday that the lawmakers should have another go at the problem because they never officially considered redistricting the Senate as called for in a court decision in Cincinnati earlier this week.

"The Senate change demands that the Legislature be recalled," Johnson asserted.

Rhodes was out of town and unavailable for comment and his office, noting he rejected a similar proposal by Johnson last week, said there probably would be no comment.

Meanwhile, Franklin County Republicans rebelled Thursday over the GOP Apportionment Board's plan to redistrict the legislature — with one state representative accusing Rhodes of running for president.

Rep. Jacob A. Shawan, three-term GOP representative, fired off a letter to Rhodes in which he asserted the plan would cost Franklin County Republicans up to four of their seven House seats and one of their two state senators.

Garden Therapy Features Event

"Garden therapy" was performed by the Scioto Transplants Garden Club as one of its projects Wednesday morning at the Jefferson County retarded school.

Members met at the home of Mrs. Garland Shorter in Toronto in the morning and returned there after the planting of bulbs in the rooms of the school for a noon luncheon and meeting. Business was conducted by Mrs. Lester Milligan, president. Devotions were led by Mrs. Howard Cameron. Members named new bulbs for roll call.

The president announced the fall regional meeting at the Shadyside Presbyterian Church next Thursday. She also announced an all - day Christmas show of Jefferson County home demonstration clubs Nov. 11 at the Starkdale Presbyterian Church of Wintersville.

Discussion was held on the flower show Dec. 3 and 4 at the Starkdale Presbyterian Church, sponsored by all Jefferson County garden clubs, in which the Scioto Club will participate.

Two floral arrangements brought by Mrs. Cameron and Mrs. Milligan were displayed and a bulb sale was held.

Plans were made for a rummage sale the last of November. The Nov. 17 meeting at the home of Mrs. Ronald Smith of Toronto will be in the form of a Christmas workshop.

Chapter 5 Of The Schema

Specter Of Nuclear Bomb Hangs Over Vatican Issue

(This is another in a series of reports from the Vatican Council at Rome by Bishop John King Mussio of the Diocese of Steubenville.)

By BISHOP MUSSIO

Answers are not always cut and dry in matters discussed at the Council. Chapter 5 of the schema "The Church in the World of Today" is titled "The Community of Nations and the Building Up of Peace." All through this chapter there hangs the specter of the nuclear bomb. The word itself is rarely used.

When Pope Paul addressed the United Nations, he pinpointed the basic difficulty in this entire question. He pointed out that nations must never engage in nuclear warfare. But he added that because of some uncooperative nations, it might be necessary to use defensive measures for proper protection. I ask myself the question: How can we protect ourselves against unclear bombs except by retaliatory use?

THE PRINCIPLES which formerly governed the conduct of war can no longer apply. There is no outcome to all-out nuclear warfare except total destruction. What principles are there that could justify world suicide?

The schema is unsatisfactory to me because it is laced with "ifs" and "buts." It seems hesitant to lock horns with the vital core of the entire chapter—nuclear war. It does state that any act of war aimed at the indiscriminate destruction of entire cities and their inhabitants is, of its nature, objectively a crime against God and man.

I think we can substitute "nuclear bomb" for "act of war." I don't know why it wasn't done.

I do not believe there is any "clean bomb" existing as far as atomic action is concerned. This would be a bomb which could devastate only a specified region, being discriminate in its destruction effects.

The poor attempt of some to label all people as combatants and fair game for atomic attack is proof that morality gets a beating when the nuclear bomb is given a whitewashing. The nuclear bomb effects indiscriminate destruction.

WHAT ABOUT stockpiles of atomic bombs? Here the difficulty arises. This is the balance of terror; the only answer men can find to protect themselves from nuclear attack.

The schema says that this balance is something monstrous. How much better could the resources be used for peaceful pursuits. Can other means be used to stop a nuclear attack without retaliating with nuclear bombs? Rockets and missiles that destroy the bombs in flight are a must. We have a right to destroy launching sites. But to throw back loads of atomic bombs is really closing out our civilization. Is it vengeance or honest defense? I ask myself these questions and wonder about the answers.

If stockpiles of bombs exist, there is the temptation to use them. There are breeding places for suspicion among nations, fear and distrust. It breeds endless competition.

I believe the nuclear bomb is immoral. I also believe a nation has a right to defend itself. I believe our defense should preserve freedom and human dignity and not destroy the world.

I listen to the discussions on this subject, hoping that the time has come for man to live in a spirit of trust and mutual understanding and not with instruments of fear. I don't know how it can be done, but I am willing to do everything possible to accomplish it. Peace founded on good order, justice as the key to true liberty, divine guidance to show us the way out of our present frightening situation; these are the things I ponder as I sit in the Council hall like a school boy, listening and wanting to learn the answers.

High Court Asked To Declare Voting Law Legal

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a rare legal move, the federal government has asked the Supreme Court to declare constitutional the controversial provisions of the 11-week-old voting rights law.

And the Justice Department urged the court to stop what it called efforts of three Southern states — Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi — to obstruct enforcement of the new law.

Because of the importance of the case — and in order to assure a final decision before primary elections in the three states next spring and summer — Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach asked the Supreme Court Thursday to assert original jurisdiction.

In effect, this short-circuits the federal judicial process by skipping U.S. district and appellate courts — where litigation could easily consume a full year — and placing the case immediately in the hands of the highest court.

The Justice Department specifically asked the court to affirm the constitutionality of those provisions of the act suspending literacy tests, authorizing federal registrars and requiring local registrars to enroll those voters approved by the federal officials.

The court was asked to give the case speedy handling, with an eye to hearing arguments by January.

At Baton Rouge, Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion said the request for the court ruling was "the most communistic move on the part of the federal government that I ever heard of. The Justice Department seeks to obviate the very government under which it exists."

A rarely invoked clause in Article 3 of the U.S. Constitution provides for Supreme Court assertion of original jurisdiction "in all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a state may be a party."

It is only the 15th time in history that the government has sought a first hearing in the Supreme Court. It has yet to be turned down. The last instance was in 1949, when it brought suit against Texas and Louisiana in a dispute over tideland oil and gas rights.

In their brief to the court, Katzenbach and Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall contend state courts in the three states are obstructing enforcement of the law by ordering registrars not to enroll the names of eligible voters registered by federal examiners.

These examiners have been ordered into 20 counties under the new law. For purposes of the legal action, the government says federal examiners registered 46,000 voters in 14 counties by the end of September — yet "no person certified by the examiners has been placed on the state lists."

While it would be just as proper to initiate its action in U.S. district courts, the government said, full participation in 1966 primary elections — May in Alabama, June in Mississippi and August in Louisiana — might be denied by the time-consuming process.

Katzenbach also disclosed that the Justice Department will take action to "eliminate bias and prejudice" in the Southern jury system. He would not give details of the department's plans.

But he said a little-used civil rights law from the Reconstruction era — making racial discrimination in the selection of federal and state jurors a crime punishable by a $5,000 fine — will be exhumed to aid the effort.

JOHN F. MISITIGH is serving as manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.'s East Liverpool district office, having succeeded William A. Kent, who was transferred to the management of the Lakeport district in Toledo. Misitigh is a native of Akron.

Special Session Requested Again On Reapportion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Sen. Danny D. Johnson, D-Tuscarawas, has asked Gov. James A. Rhodes for the second time to call a special legislative session to work out Ohio reapportionment.

Johnson said in a letter to the GOP governor Thursday that the lawmakers should have another go at the problem because they never officially considered redistricting the Senate as called for in a court decision in Cincinnati earlier this week.

"The Senate change demands that the Legislature be recalled," Johnson asserted.

Rhodes was out of town and unavailable for comment and his office, noting he rejected a similar proposal by Johnson last week, said there probably would be no comment.

Meanwhile, Franklin County Republicans rebelled Thursday over the GOP Apportionment Board's plan to redistrict the legislature — with one state representative accusing Rhodes of running for president.

Rep. Jacob A. Shawan, three-term GOP representative, fired off a letter to Rhodes in which he asserted the plan would cost Franklin County Republicans up to four of their seven House seats and one of their two state senators.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Many sweaters, especially the bulky ones, come without pockets nowadays ....

Guess what?

Your famous, old, nylon net came to our rescue again!

I make lightweight, but durable, pockets from a double thickness of nylon net, and sew it on the INSIDE of a sweater, overwhipping it to the sweater itself.

It's not in the least bulky, nor does it show from the outside, and gives me a place for my cigarettes, door key or tissues, etc., when visiting a neighbor, going for a drive, etc.

Matching seam binding may be used to give the pocket a more finished look, but is quite unnecessary.

My husband had a very expensive sport shirt which he never wore because it had no pockets either. I turned the shirt wrong side out and sewed a nice pocket on the inside, near the hem at the front. One need not necessarily use net for this purpose, but as it is so transparant, it hardly shows.

DEAR HELOISE: I have always broken lots of candles, trying to insert them into the holders on birthday cakes.

When I made a cake for my grandson's birthday today, I dipped the candles in hot water first, and they went into the holders easily, and really stayed put — I didn't break one candle.

2 Cleveland Groups Against Issue No. 1

CLEVELAND (AP) — Opposition to State Issue No. 1 on the Nov. 2 ballot was expressed Thursday by the Cleveland Teachers Union and the Retail Merchants Board of Cleveland.

The issue is a proposal to raise the sales tax to 4 per cent from 3 per cent.

"It is our contention that this tax cannot be justified on a basis of either ability to pay or benefits received," Gordon Rawlinson, a CTU trustee, said in releasing a statement on the issue.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Many sweaters, especially the bulky ones, come without pockets nowadays . . . .

Guess what?

Your famous, old, nylon net came to our rescue again!

I make lightweight, but durable, pockets from a double thickness of nylon net, and sew it on the INSIDE of a sweater, overwhipping it to the sweater itself.

It's not in the least bulky, nor does it show from the outside, and gives me a place for my cigarettes, door key or tissues, etc., when visiting a neighbor, going for a drive, etc.

Matching seam binding may be used to give the pocket a more finished look, but is quite unnecessary.

My husband had a very expensive sport shirt which he never wore because it had no pockets either. I turned the shirt wrong side out and sewed a nice pocket on the inside, near the hem at the front. One need not necessarily use net for this purpose, but as it is so transparant, it hardly shows.

ANNE MURRAY

You're a doll!
I can't wait to try this one!
HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have always broken lots of candles, trying to insert them into the holders on birthday cakes.

When I made a cake for my grandson's birthday today, I dipped the candles in hot water first, and they went into the holders easily, and really stayed put — I didn't break one candle.

MRS. O. J. PEARSON.

DEAR HELOISE: I cut the cuff of my worn out rubber gloves into narrow strips, making rubber bands — some wide and some narrow — according to my needs.

These bands will last for quite some time.

MRS. R. ROY BANKER.

DEAR HELOISE: If people will cover the top of the flower boxes, which contain dirt and flowers, with one-half inch of gravel, it will keep the dirt from splashing out.

MRS. GUY RICHARD.

DEAR GALS: Mrs. Richard has a wonderful idea.

One gal I know, covers the soil around all her house plants with colored pebbles, such as one would ordinarily buy to put in the bottom of a fish bowl. She says this not only keeps the soil from drying out.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When I put down new linoleum, I usually have some pieces left over.

These are especially good to put in the bottom of the cabinet under the sink or in any other cabinets, instead of shelf paper.

It adds a decorator's touch, and can be wiped easily, thus saving time and energy when cleaning and changing papers.

MRS. CRAWFORD.

DEAR HELOISE: Do you know that when you have lost the address of someone in another city, you can go to your local telephone company's office where you will find a library of telephone directories for every city in the country and get the address you need?

The telephone companies furnish this as a public service for which there is no charge.

They don't mind your using this free service, as who knows — you may decide to telephone instead of writing!

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Sugar Ray Tries Comeback . . .

Perhaps some of the sharpness is gone, but Sugar Ray Robinson still packed enough punch to send his younger opponent, Rudolph Bent, slumping to the mat in the third round Wednesday night at Steubenville.

At 44, Robinson looks good and much younger than his age.

What keeps the five-time middleweight champion going? He told the press in several pre-fight interviews: "I love it all, this is my way of life. I want to retire as a champion and while I do not plan to make a new career of boxing, I will retire when I win the championship."

What are the chances of a fighter Sugar's age going all the way? Fresh from his victory over Bent, who is considered an average pro, Robinson is looking forward to Joey Archer Nov. 10 at Pittsburgh's Civic Arena.

A victory over Archer would place Robinson in line for a crack at the title now held by Dick Tiger, who defeated Joey Giardello last night in New York.

The promoters of the Steubenville show, which turned out to be a good one, were satisfied with the crowd, about 3,000, at the Community Arena.

'Shot' Bennett Named At Sharon . . .

A FORMER East Liverpool basketball star, Donald A. (Shot) Bennett, has been named head floor coach at Sharon High School, succeeding William Laycock.

Bennett, who went on to captain the Westminster basketball team after leaving ELHS in 1941, received a three-year contract. He had been an assistant coach at Sharon for several years.

This Week's Selections . . .

HERE WE GO on another weekend merry-go-round of selecting the winners and losers in district football. It was seven right and four wrong on last week's standings.

If there is an upset in the air, we hope it blows toward Patterson Field tonight, but the Potters are going up against their strongest foe of the season in Steubenville Big Red. We aren't going out on the limb, so, sticking strictly to records and past performances, it looks like Big Red by three touchdowns.

Oak Glen expects a tough battle from Beaver Local, and should get one. The Beavers should be sky high for this one, but Oak Glen has been the most consistent club in the district. Oak Glen by two TD's.

Chris Thornton and his mates at Wellsville will have to put together their best effort to get by an improved Salem team. The Quakers have held a jinx over the Tigers. Salem by a touchdown.

Midland is picked here to get back on the victory trail against a visiting Braddock eleven.

Jefferson Union has too much for Southern and should continue undefeated while Stanton, after a week's rest, is picked over Springfield.

In Tri-County action, we are taking Columbiana in a slight upset over Sebring, Louisville to romp over Lisbon and Minerva to handle East Palestine.

Saturday, we like United to remain undefeated at Crestview, Poland to trip Leetonia and Avonworth to outscore South Side.

Smith, Palmer Will Lead 8th Ranked Big Red

A crowd of 5,500 is expected tonight when East Liverpool attempts to pull the rug from under eighth ranked Steubenville Big Red at Patterson Field with kickoff at 7:45.

Steubenville will be recovering from its first loss of the season to Massillon by a 20-14 count while East Liverpool is fresh from its top offensive show of the season in a 40-6 rout of Martins Ferry last week. The Potters rate a three touchdown underdog against Big Red.

At Steubenville, Coach Abe Bryan said "We're not taking East Liverpool lightly. We rate them dangerous and their games with Midland and Martins Ferry convince us of that."

The Potters will be facing the running of fullback Bob Smith and halfback Mike Palmer, the occasional passing of Bob Endres and an aggressive defense.

SMITH, a rugged 180-pound fullback, has picked up 394 yards in 69 attempts for a 5.71 average. He has seven touchdowns and two conversions to his credit and is rated an outstanding blocker.

Palmer has rolled up 601 yards in 72 attempts, an average of 8.43 per carry. The 160-pound junior has nine td's and two conversions and has caught 11 passes for 179 yards.

IN SIX games, Big Red has given up only 60 points while scoring 178. Steubenville also was the only team to lead Massillon this season.

The Potters will be banking on the air arm of Chuck Winters who is highly respected by the Steubenville staff and Nick Marchbanks, the Potters top scorer.

LAST week against Martins Ferry, Coach Bob McNea used Bob Woods and Carl Natalina at offensive ends in an attempt to spruce up the passing game. Woods and Natalina had been used mostly on the defensive unit.

McNea will be pulling all stops tonight in an effort to create an upset at Patterson Field over an arch rival like Steubenville.

Only a year ago, the Potters didn't have much trouble scoring a 24-12 victory over Big Red.

Spartan Defense Will Test Purdue

By The Associated Press

Michigan State must carry its "minus" defense from the ground to the air against Purdue Saturday if it hopes to retain its lofty position in the college football rankings.

The Spartans, the No. 2 team in the nation, travel to Lafayette, Ind., to take on the sixth-ranked Boilermakers. In another clash between Top Ten teams, Southern California, No. 4, meets Notre Dame, No. 7, at South Bend, Ind.

In extending its record to 5-0, Michigan State has held its past two opponents, Michigan and Ohio State, to minus yardage on the ground.

Michigan lost 29 yards rushing while Ohio State lost 22 yards, the first time in history the Buckeyes' vaunted running game had turned out negatively.

But Purdue, 4-0-1, is primarily a passing team, with Bob Griese sparking the attack. Griese is the third-leading passer in the nation, having thrown for 1,111 yards in five games. He also has tossed for nine of the Boilermakers' 14 touchdowns.

"This is definitely one of the finest teams we will play all year," said Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty. "It will take a 100 per cent performance by all players to win this one."

Michigan State has a strong offense to go along with its defense. The Spartans are the 10th best offensive team, Purdue is 11th. The battle also will affect the standings in the Big Ten since Michigan State is 3-0 and Purdue 2-0 in conference play.

Notre Dame will be out to return the favor Southern California gave the Irish last season. The teams played in the last game of the season, and when it was over unbeaten Notre Dame no longer was unbeaten.

This season the Trojans have been won four straight games after tying Minnesota in the opener, while the Irish have lost only to Purdue in four starts.

The game will be televised nationally by NBC starting at 1 p.m. EST.

Four of the remaining six Top Ten teams play night games. Top-ranked Arkansas takes on North Texas State, fifth-ranked Texas meets Rice, Louisiana State, No. 9, battles South Carolina, and 10th-rated Georgia plays Kentucky.

Nebraska, No. 3, meets Colorado in an afternoon game, and eighth-ranked Florida is idle.

Arkansas, still sizzling after its victory over Texas last Saturday, should have an easy time recording its 18th straight victory.

Kent-Bowling Green Tilt Is Tops In Buckeyeland

By HAL PARIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Kent State battles Bowling Green Saturday in the Buckeye State's top collegiate football game of the day.

First place in the Mid-American Conference hangs on the outcome as the two teams square off before an expected 20,000 in Kent's Memorial Stadium.

Elsewhere, Ohio State, bolstered by the return of linebacker Ike Kelley, invades Madison for a Big Ten skirmish against Wisconsin, and Ohio University visits Miami and Toledo plays host to Western Michigan in two other Mid-Am clashes.

The Bucks, trying to bounce back after a 32-7 setback to powerful Michigan State, face a Badger team that sports a 2-0 mark in the conference.

Kelley, injured in the Spartan game, was feared lost for Wisconsin but his gimpy knee has responded to treatment.

Ohio State is 1-1 in the league and needs a victory to retain and hopes for a championship. Wisconsin, picked to finish last, has been the surprise team in the loop.

Kent Coach Leo Strang and Falcon boss Bob Gibson agree on one thing about Saturday's key Mid-American tussle — it's a crucial game for both sides.

Kent (2-0-1) will be out to atone for a 41-0 setback administered by the Falcons last year. Bowling Green (2-0) continues to win but has not been impressive.

Miami (2-1) needs a triumph over winless Ohio U. to stay in the thick of things.

The Redskins, with Bruce Matte at the controls, got their offense in high gear last week in a 28-7 romp over Marshall.

In the top Ohio Conference attractions of the day, Capital plays at Akron and Muskingum (4-0) bids to tighten its grip on first place at Wooster.

Ohio OC teams in action pit Wittenberg at Heidelberg; Denison at Oberlin, Mt. Union at Hiram and Marietta at Otterbein (n).

Musuraca Scores 3 TD's In Westgate's Sixth Win

Jim Musuraca was off and running Thursday as he hit paydirt three times on runs of 50, 40 and 70 yards to pace undefeated Westgate in a 28-6 victory over a visiting Salem team.

The victory was the sixth straight for the Wildcats who gave up their first touchdown in six games. Salem broke Westgate's shutout streak with a touchdown in the fourth quarter coming on a 30-yard pass play from Cramer to Kaercher.

Musuraca opened the scoring in the first period on a 50 yard dash and Tom Chambers passed to quarterback Dan Cunningham on a play covering 45 yards for a TD in the second period.

Musuraca scored again in the second quarter going 40 yards then turned in a 70-yard gallop in the third frame.

Westgate will meet Steubenville Grant Thursday at 4:15 p. m. at Patterson Field.

In a game played Wednesday, the Westgate eighth grade defeated East Junior High, 18-8.

Midland Club To Hold Sighting In Day

Casper Holds 3-Stroke Lead At Las Vegas

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The struggle in the $100,000 Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament shapes up as a duel of two seasoned players-Bill Casper Jr. and Jack Nicklaus.

But there is a spread of six strokes to remember — with three ambitious young challengers nestled in between.

This was the setting today as the trimmed - down field of 71 professionals swung into the third round of play over the par-36-35—71, 7,069 - yard Paradise Valley Country Club layout.

Casper led the pack with straight five-under par 66s for a 36-hole tournament-record total of 132.

Three shots back was Randy Glover of Florence, S.C., with scores of 70-65—135. Dale Douglass of Denver was next with 69-67—136, and Dudley Wysong of Casper, Wyo., had 69-63—137.

At 138, and 36 holes to play, was the winner of five major tournaments this year, and the champion in the Sahara in 1963, Nicklaus. He had 71-67 and tied with him was Dave Hill, 68-70.

Past records would indicate that it will be Casper and Nicklaus when the chips—$20,000 of them to be precise—are down in the final 18 holes Saturday.

Tied at 139 after 36 holes were Art Wall Jr., Bobby Nichols, Billy Maxwell, Doug Sanders and Al Besselink.

At 140 were seven others, including Al Geiberger, Bruce Crampton, George Knudson and Don January.

East Junior Beaten, 24-0, At Leetonia

Leetonia's undefeated freshman team won its sixth straight game by dealing East Junior High a 24-0 defeat Thursday at Leetonia.

Leetonia opened the scoring in the first period on a 70 yard pass play from Casey to Bennett. The winners scored again in the second period then added a safety and turned a blocked punt into a touchdown in the second half.

The loss leaves East Junior with a 1-4-1 record.

East will play Springfield Local of Mahoning County Wednesday at 5:30 p. m. at Patterson Field.

North Carolina High School Gridder Dies

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Mike Welch, a 17-year-old high school football player, died Thursday of injuries received in a scrimmage at Pine Forest School near Fayetteville.

Welch collapsed during the scrimmage Wednesday and was taken to Womack Army Hospital at Ft. Bragg, where surgery was performed to relieve pressure on his brain.

He was flown to Walter Reed General Hospital at Washington Thursday, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY

Sugar Ray Tries Comeback . . .

Perhaps some of the sharpness is gone, but Sugar Ray Robinson still packed enough punch to send his younger opponent, Rudolph Bent, slumping to the mat in the third round Wednesday night at Steubenville.

At 44, Robinson looks good and much younger than his age.

What keeps the five-time middleweight champion going? He told the press in several pre-fight interviews: "I love it all, this is my way of life. I want to retire as a champion and while I do not plan to make a new career of boxing, I will retire when I win the championship."

What are the chances of a fighter Sugar's age going all the way? Fresh from his victory over Bent, who is considered an average pro, Robinson is looking forward to Joey Archer Nov. 10 at Pittsburgh's Civic Arena.

A victory over Archer would place Robinson in line for a crack at the title now held by Dick Tiger, who defeated Joey Giardello last night in New York.

The promoters of the Steubenville show, which turned out to be a good one, were satisfied with the crowd, about 3,000, at the Community Arena.

'Shot' Bennett Named At Sharon . . .

A FORMER East Liverpool basketball star, Donald A. (Shot) Bennett, has been named head floor coach at Sharon High School, succeeding William Laycock.

Bennett, who went on to captain the Westminster basketball team after leaving ELHS in 1941, received a three-year contract. He had been an assistant coach at Sharon for several years.

This Week's Selections . . .

HERE WE GO on another weekend merry-go-round of selecting the winners and losers in district football. It was seven right and four wrong on last week's standings.

We aren't going out on the limb, so, sticking strictly to records and past performances, it looks like Big Red by three touchdowns.

Oak Glen expects a tough battle from Beaver Local, and should get one. The Beavers should be sky high for this one, but Oak Glen has been the most consistent club in the district. Oak Glen by two TD's.

Chris Thornton and his mates at Wellsville will have to put together their best effort to get by an improved Salem team The Quakers have held a jinx over the Tigers. Salem by a touchdown.

Spartan Defense Will Test Purdue

By The Associated Press

Michigan State must carry its "minus" defense from the ground to the air against Purdue Saturday if it hopes to retain its lofty position in the college football rankings.

The Spartans, the No. 2 team in the nation, travel to Lafayette, Ind., to take on the sixth-ranked Boilermakers. In another clash between Top Ten teams, Southern California, No. 4, meets Notre Dame, No. 7, at South Bend, Ind.

In extending its record to 5-0, Michigan State has held its past two opponents, Michigan and Ohio State, to minus yardage on the ground.

Michigan lost 29 yards rushing while Ohio State lost 22 yards, the first time in history the Buckeyes' vaunted running game had turned out negatively.

This season the Trojans have been won four straight games after tying Minnesota in the opener, while the Irish have lost only to Purdue in four starts.

Tiger Decisions Joey To Regain Middleweight Crown

Archer, Sugar Ray Seen Next Opponent For New Champion

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Jabbing Joey Archer or even ancient Sugar Ray Robinson may be the next title opponent for Dick Tiger, the recrowned middleweight champion of the world.

"I will fight anyone my managers name because I intend to keep busy," the 36-year-old Nigerian said today as he celebrated his clearcut, unanimous victory over defending champion Joey Giardello at Square Garden Thursday night in their return 15-rounder.

"Fighting is my main business," said Tiger, who owns seven apartment houses in his native land. "I was determined to beat Giardello. Nothing was going to stop me. I went out with all I had from the opening bell. I knew I had him in the first round."

Lou Burston and Jersey Jones, Tiger's American representatives, mentioned Archer, Robinson, light - heavyweight champion Jose Torres and junior middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti of Italy as possible opponents for Tiger.

Archer, the slick, 27-year-old New Yorker who scored a controversial decision over Tiger in the Garden a year ago, and Robinson, the 45-year-old, five-time holder of the middleweight crown, are scheduled to fight in Pittsburgh, Nov. 10.

The promoter, Archie Litman, said in Pittsburgh he has wired an offer of $75,000 to Tiger to meet the winner.

While Tiger was eagerly looking ahead to further conquests, Giardello, the 35-year-old ring-scarred veteran of 18 years of pro battling, was just about through.

His wife Rosalie told him to quit but Joey wants to fight once more in a benefit for retarded children at Providence, R.I., Dec. 8. His 11-year-old son, Carmine, one of his four boys, is retarded.

"I couldn't get started," said Joey. "My right was slow, my legs were slow — everything was slow."

It was evident early in the fight that Joey didn't have it and Tiger did.

From the opening bell, the muscular, aggressive, perfectly conditioned Nigerian grimly stalked the boxer who had dethroned him in Atlantic City, N.J., Dec. 7, 1963.

He bombed Giardello to the body, slowing the champ down, and then worked his punches up. It was a jabbing lead or a thumping right to the ribs that started off most of Tiger's barrages, but it was the jarring, accurate left hooks that shook up Joey consistently and enabled Dick to hammer the champ to the ropes.

Referee Johnny LoBianco permitted Tiger to bang away at close quarters when Giardello tried to tie up Tiger as he did in his winning fight at Atlantic City. That was 22 months ago and the year-younger Giardello appeared to have aged considerably more than Tiger.

Tiger opened a cut over Giardello's left eye in the second round and a slight gash over the right eye in the ninth. By the 11th round he had the fight won, but never could floor the game, strong-jawed American.

Giardello rallied in the last three rounds but it was too late and his looping, light blows never bothered Tiger.

The officials voted for Tiger by the following round scores: referee LoBianco, 9-5-1; judge Al Berl, 10-5, and judge Tony Catellano, 8-6-1. The Associated Press scorecard had Tiger in front, 10-4-1.

The defeat snapped Giardello's victory streak at nine for a nearly three-year span. His record now is 98-23-7. Tiger, a pro 14 years, has a 52-14-3 record.

Giardello weighed the class limit of 160 pounds to Tiger's 158½.

New York Picked To Trip Browns; Packers Favored

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The trading season is over and the National Football League shapes up as a two-team race in each conference. Green Bay and Baltimore look like the class of the West and St. Louis and Cleveland the best in the East.

Buffalo is practically in with two non-winners in the American Football League's Eastern Division. San Diego appears headed for the title in the West.

Another good week, 7-2-2, left the season totals at 28-7 in the NFL and 11-5-3 in the AFL for an over-all 39-12-3 and a little protection for the day when the roof caves in. Let's try again (all games Sunday afternoon unless otherwise noted).

NFL

Green Bay 21, Dallas 13- The only game the Packers have lost in 10 starts was a 21-12 decision to Dallas in an Aug. 28 exhibition game. Bart Starr having a good year with eight TDs and only two interceptions and Packer defense should give Don Meredith rough afternoon. It's about time for Packers' running game to click.

Baltimore 31, Los Angeles 14- Swede Svare experimenting with rookie linebackers. John Unitas hitting Raymond Berry and Jimmy Orr consistently and Rams are last in pass defense.

Philadelphia 28, Pittsburgh 17- Norm Snead still out so King Hill has to carry load for Eagles again with kicker Sam Baker also doubtful. Steelers' Bill Nelsen hasn't hit with a TD pass yet and now Gary Ballman is out. Another big day for Tim Brown.

St. Louis 24, Washington 7- Buddy Humphrey should be able to guide Cards past Skins and Charley Johnson can play if needed badly despite injured left shoulder.

Chicago 28, Detroit 24- The Bears have made a believer out of this fellow, Gale Sayers too hot to handle. Lions hurting in defensive backfield with Jimmy Hill and Bob Thompson doubtful.

San Francisco 28, Minnesota 27- Yeah, that close. One of week's toughies. Give 49ers edge at home. John Brodie getting great protection but Vikings' strong running game with Tommy Mason and Bill Brown will test 49er defense. It comes down to Vikings' leaky pass defense vs. Brodie's pitching.

New York 24, Cleveland 21- Long-shot chance of the week. It can be a Cleveland romp if Giant rookies don't contain Jim Brown and cover Frank Ryan's targets. Look for Browns to throw to tight end John Brewer and pick on Henry Carr. If Earl Morrall is on target, bombs away! A close win for the Giants or a runaway for Browns.

AFL

San Diego 21, New York 14 (Saturday night)- The team that thumped Buffalo should romp over the Jets but those hot-and-cold Chargers can be inconsistent. Remember that 13-13 tie with non-winning Boston last week?

Oakland 24, Boston 14- Raiders come home after three-game road trip that ended with 24-24 tie against Jets. Al Davis' boys beat Boston 24-10 on the road and should do it again with Art Graham outs of Pats' line-up-up. Fred Biletnikoff takes over job vacated by Bo Roberson traded to Buffalo.

Buffalo 21, Denver 17- This can be a tough one for the Bills whose offense has been shoddy since loss of Elbert Dubenion and Glenn Bass. Addition of Bo Roberson should help and there's always Pete Gogolak.

Kansas City 14, Houston 10- The Oilers haven't lost at home but they dropped their last three on the road and are switching to Don Trull as starter over George Blanda. Chiefs' offense spotty but defense solid enough to stop Oilers.

New York Picked To Trip Browns; Packers Favored

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The trading season is over and the National Football League shapes up as a two-team race in each conference. Green Bay and Baltimore look like the class of the West and St. Louis and Cleveland the best in the East.

Buffalo is practically in with two non-winners in the American Football League's Eastern Division. San Diego appears headed for the title in the West.

Another good week. 7-2-2, left the season totals at 28-7 in the NFL and 11-5-3 in the AFL for an over-all 39-12-3 and a little protection for the day when the roof caves in. Let's try again (all games Sunday afternoon unless otherwise noted).

NFL

Green Bay 21, Dallas 13- The only game the Packers have lost in 10 starts was a 21-12 decision to Dallas in an Aug. 28 exhibition game. Bart Starr having a good year with eight TDs and only two interceptions and Packer defense should give Don Meredith rough afternoon. It's about time for Packers' running game to click.

Baltimore 31, Los Angeles 14- Swede Svare experimenting with rookie linebackers. John Unitas hitting Raymond Berry and Jimmy Orr consistently and Rams are last in pass defense.

Philadelphia 28, Pittsburgh 17- Norm Snead still out so King Hill has to carry load for Eagles again with kicker Sam Baker also doubtful. Steelers' Bill Nelsen hasn't hit with a TD pass yet and now Gary Ballman is out. Another big day for Tim Brown.

St. Louis 24, Washington 7- Buddy Humphrey should be able to guide Cards past Skins and Charley Johnson can play if needed badly despite injured left shoulder.

Chicago 28, Detroit 24- The Bears have made a believer out of this fellow, Gale Sayers too hot to handle. Lions hurting in defensive backfield with Jimmy Hill and Bob Thompson doubtful.

San Francisco 28, Minnesota 27- Yeah, that close. One of week's toughies. Give 49ers edge at home. John Brodie getting great protection but Vikings' strong running game with Tommy Mason and Bill Brown will test 49er defense. It comes down to Vikings' leaky pass defense vs. Brodie's pitching.

New York 24, Cleveland 21- Long-shot chance of the week. It can be a Cleveland romp if Giant rookies don't contain Jim Brown and cover Frank Ryan's targets. Look for Browns to throw to tight end John Brewer and pick on Henry Carr. If Earl Morrall is on target, bombs away! A close win for the Giants or a runaway for Browns.

AFL

San Diego 21, New York 14 (Saturday night)- The team that thumped Buffalo should romp over the Jets but those hot-and-cold Chargers can be inconsistent. Remember that 13-13 tie with non-winning Boston last week?

Oakland 24, Boston 14- Raiders come home after three-game road trip that ended with 24-24 tie against Jets. Al Davis' boys beat Boston 24-10 on the road and should do it again with Art Graham outs of Pats' line-up-up. Fred Biletnikoff takes over job vacated by Bo Roberson traded to Buffalo.

Buffalo 21, Denver 17- This can be a tough one for the Bills whose offense has been shoddy since loss of Elbert Dubenion and Glenn Bass. Addition of Bo Roberson should help and there's always Pete Gogolak.

Kansas City 14, Houston 10- The Oilers haven't lost at home but they dropped their last three on the road and are switching to Don Trull as starter over George Blanda. Chiefs' offense spotty but defense solid enough to stop Oilers.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Shhh! Dean's Asleep!

Nobody around Hollywood works harder at preserving a devil-may-care image than the devil-may-care Dean Martin. Compared to Dean, Bing Crosby is in an advanced stage of St. Vitus dance.

If Dean gets any looser he will have to be ladled out of bed in the Hal Humphrey mornings and squirted onto the golf course, where he insists he spends the major portion of his so-called waking hours.

TO HEAR DEAN tell it, the weekly variety hour on NBC-TV is that the network lost its mind and agreed to pay him the ridiculous price he demanded. He hoped, he says, to discourage the network VIP's further by making it clear he would be at the studio only on Sundays to tape the show—no rehearsals for him.

"Most of these shows are rehearsed too much," drawls Dean. "Nobody's gonna do that to mine. Milton Berle is coming up on one we taped already, and before we did it he was on the phone calling meetings and everything. 'Wait a minute!' I had to yell at him. 'This is my show, and I gotta nice rating, so you let me alone.' Shucks he was only gonna do six minutes."

DANNY THOMAS, who will have six TV specials on NBC this season, cornered Dean recently to complain about Dean's slovenly work habits.

"You're spoiling it for the rest of us," Danny wailed. "I got Martha Raye on one of my shows, but she won't rehearse and says she didn't have to for Dean Martin."

There is no evidence that Danny's plea had any more effect on the deeply indifferent Dean than was recorded when Berle confronted him.

Dean does condescend to meet with the writers at his home on Thursdays "to kinda kick it around." The only rule he seems to have about his show is that they stay away from Hollywood jokes and the "inside" or trade jokes.

"I generally hate actors anyway," says Dean. "I don't go around with them. My friends are ball players, musicians or bus drivers."

BILL COLLERAN, producer of the Dean Martin Show, was fired recently and a clique of Hollywood gossip mongers, cracked, "Hah! You see? Dean has a hot temper after all and must be very tense under that limp exterior."

Not true, according to Dean. He says he didn't even know Colleran was being let out.

"I guess he just couldn't get along with some of the gang," he speculates.

Greg Garrison, the director, was elevated to producer and to earn his spurs he immediately tossed ideas at Dean for changing the show's den-and-bar opening.

"He wanted me to come down a kinda spiral staircase. Man, I get nosebleeds up high, I told him. The next week he wanted me to enter from the audience, and I says, 'Oh, that's really new, you idiot.'"

THERE HAVE been rumors of some unhappiness among a sponsor or two who questioned the taste displayed in the first two Martin shows. Dean denies hearing of any such trouble.

"Listen, it's my show. Nobody tells me what to do, not the network or anybody."

Maybe the answer to Dean's relaxed and go-to-the-devil attitude is the people around him. Somebody has to be in there fighting and maneuvering. Even with a talent like Dean's, one doesn't just happen to have contracts which call for three pictures a year, record albums and six weeks at Las Vegas.

-:-

DEAN SAYS his business manager came to him the other day to tell him to slow down.

"We're making too much money this year," was his bad news.

Then why did Dean take on the TV series at that "ridiculous price"? Maybe he isn't as relaxed as we think. Maybe he did it to prove to an ex-partner named Jerry Lewis that a weekly TV show is a breeze.

Summitville Sets Curb On 'Loose' Dogs

SUMMITVILLE — An ordinance prohibiting dogs from running at large was approved by a 5-1 vote at a meeting of Council Thursday night.

Tennessee Loses Third Grid Coach

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Charles Rash, 28, assistant football coach at the University of Tennessee, died in a hospital here early today of injuries suffered Monday in a railroad crossing accident.

Two other Tennessee assistant coaches, William B. (Bill) Majors, 26, and Robert T. (Bob) Jones, 30, were killed outright when a Southern Railway passenger train struck a car in which they were riding.

Rash, offensive line coach on Head Coach Doug Dickey's staff, suffered severe head injuries and doctors held out little hope for his recovery.

A standout lineman at the University of Missouri in 1956-58, Rash began his coaching career at his alma mater. He served as line coach at the Air Force Academy from 1961 to the spring of 1964 when he joined the Tennessee staff.

Shhh! Dean's Asleep!

Nobody around Hollywood works harder at preserving a devil-may-care image than the devil-may-care Dean Martin. Compared to Dean, Bing Crosby is in an advanced stage of St. Vitus dance.

Hal Humphrey

If Dean gets any looser he will have to be ladled out of bed in the mornings and squirted onto the golf course, where he insists he spends the major portion of his so-called waking hours.

-:-

TO HEAR DEAN tell it, the weekly variety hour on NBC-TV is that the network lost its mind and agreed to pay him the ridiculous price he demanded. He hoped, he says, to discourage the network VIP's further by making it clear he would be at the studio only on Sundays to tape the show—no rehearsals for him.

"Most of these shows are rehearsed too much," drawls Dean. "Nobody's gonna do that to mine. Milton Berle is coming up on one we taped already, and before we did it he was on the phone calling meetings and everything. 'Wait a minute!' I had to yell at him. 'This is my show, and I gotta nice rating, so you let me alone.' Shucks he was only gonna do six minutes."

DANNY THOMAS, who will have six TV specials on NBC this season, cornered Dean recently to complain about Dean's slovenly work habits.

"You're spoiling it for the rest of us," Danny wailed. "I got Martha Raye on one of my shows, but she won't rehearse and says she didn't have to for Dean Martin."

There is no evidence that Danny's plea had any more effect on the deeply indifferent Dean than was recorded when Berle confronted him.

Dean does condescend to meet with the writers at his home on Thursdays "to kinda kick it around." The only rule he seems to have about his show is that they stay away from Hollywood jokes and the "inside" or trade jokes.

"I generally hate actors anyway," says Dean. "I don't go around with them. My friends are ball players, musicians or bus drivers."

BILL COLLERAN, producer of the Dean Martin Show, was fired recently and a clique of Hollywood gossip mongers, cracked, "Hah! You see? Dean has a hot temper after all and must be very tense under that limp exterior."

Not true, according to Dean. He says he didn't even know Colleran was being let out.

"I guess he just couldn't get along with some of the gang," he speculates.

Greg Garrison, the director, was elevated to producer and to earn his spurs he immediately tossed ideas at Dean for changing the show's den-and-bar opening.

"He wanted me to come down a kinda spiral staircase. Man, I get nosebleeds up high, I told him. The next week he wanted me to enter from the audience, and I says, 'Oh, that's really new, you idiot.'"

THERE HAVE been rumors of some unhappiness among a sponsor or two who questioned the taste displayed in the first two Martin shows. Dean denies hearing of any such trouble.

"Listen, it's my show. Nobody tells me what to do, not the network or anybody."

Maybe the answer to Dean's relaxed and go-to-the-devil attitude is the people around him. Somebody has to be in there fighting and maneuvering. Even with a talent like Dean's, one doesn't just happen to have contracts which call for three pictures a year, record albums and six weeks at Las Vegas.

-:-

DEAN SAYS his business manager came to him the other day to tell him to slow down.

"We're making too much money this year," was his bad news.

Then why did Dean take on the TV series at that "ridiculous price"? Maybe he isn't as relaxed as we think. Maybe he did it to prove to an ex-partner named Jerry Lewis that a weekly TV show is a breeze.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRD FEEDERS

QUESTION: What kind of feeding station should I put up to attract birds?

ANSWER: In some sections of the country, this is a good time of the year to think about bird-feeding stations. During the summer, the birds get along very well by themselves but in the winter they are very glad to find a little restaurant set up in the yard. Birds being such shy creatures, it is wise to put out food now, to get them accustomed to know where to find it later on.

Our picture shows a platform Jenny has put on the outside of her window sill which gives her the fun of watching the birds closely. Approach such a feeding station from the inside cautiously at first. After awhile, the birds will became accustomed to a friend looking on. At upper right is a feeding station, with a roof as protection, suspended on a wire which goes out from a window through a screw eye in a post or tree and back. With this, you can gradually accustom the birds to your presence, each time pulling the station a bit nearer. Suet or beef fat can be bought cheaply at meat markets and is very popular with birds. You can bore holes in a post (right) and put suet in some and pegs for birds to perch in others. Suet can be melted and put in an empty coconut or inside a quart jar which is tied under a hanging roof.

FOR YOU TO DO: Experiment with different foods to see which kinds the birds seem to like best. Try mixing crumbs with seeds and grains. Birds like chopped-up, hard-boiled eggs, oatmeal and broken up dog biscuit. You will be able to think up many other items for your bird menu.

2 OSU Students Suggest Renaming Ohio Capital

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS (OR ERICSON), Ohio (AP)—If Columbus didn't discover America, this country may be in for a lot of name-dropping.

Already a couple of Ohio State University students want to put Ericson on the map by re-christening the Ohio capital named for the Italian discoverer who, it's now discovered, may not have discovered much.

"Think of all the employment it will be for map makers," said Gary S. Horowitz, a graduate student in history who's joined with R. Vladimir Steffel to circulate petitions proposing to re-name Columbus for Leif Ericson, a Norseman who's reported to have landed in America a long time before the Italian got adventurous.

The students say their campaign is catching on. But not at city hall.

"I think those students would be a lot better off if they would spend a little more time on their studies," said Columbus Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner. "You bet I'll fight to keep the name of Columbus."

William Hellerman, president of the Columbus Day U.S.A. Association, was less riled but no less determined.

"Let them have a little fun," he said of the students, But he added:

"I'm for keeping the name of Columbus. After all, we have all that stationery printed."

Word that Ericson may have beaten Columbus really isn't new. An encyclopedia printed several years ago says flatly: "Leif was one of the first men to visit the mainland of America."

What stirred the students, though, was word that Yale University had a map proving conclusively that Ericson "discovered" America about 600 years before Columbus.

Re-naming cities and streets and so on in the interest of historical accuracy could pose problems.

How, for instance, would you break the news to the sweet young thing recently named Miss Columbus of all the Miss Columbuses from all the American towns of that name?

Some companies, too, would have to be re-named—though Columbus Blank Book Co. and Columbus Buggy Parts Co. would still be blank book and buggy parts companies whether the city was called Columbus or Ericson of just Discoverer.

Changing signs, printing new letterheads and revising telephone listings, though, might start a bigger economic boom than the largest shot ever fired in the war on poverty.

Even if the name game could be won, monumental problems would remain.

4 Are Unhurt In 3 Mishaps

Four district residents escaped injury in three area highway mishaps Thursday — two on Dresden Ave. Ext. or County Rd. 447 — the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A 1964 convertible driven by Allen Leroy Rice, 22, of Wellsville R. D. 1, was struck from the rear by another car about one mile north of the city limits at 10:10 p. m.

Rice, headed north, was about to make a left turn when his car was struck from behind by a 1960 sedan operated by Jerry James Boyer, 27, of Salem R.D. 3. There was moderate damage to both vehicles, officers said.

Thomas Ray Shields, 19, of R.D. 2 was cited for reckless operation after a car he was driving veered off the highway about 1.5 miles north of the city, struck an embankment and overturned about noon.

Officers said Shields was headed north and shifted gears approaching a curve, lost control and the 1965 compact owned by Mike Turk, Inc., went off the road. There was moderate damage.

Shields and a passenger, David Carlisle, 21, of Calcutta, escaped injury.

Rosella Leasure, 45, of 5th Ave., LaCroft, was unhurt when a semi-trailer rig forced her 1963 compact off Route 30 near West Point late yesterday morning.

Officers said Eugene Bennett, 46, of Salem, driving a semi-trailer rig, passed her auto, but cut back to the lane too sharply, due to an oncoming auto, and she was forced off the road, her auto hitting an embankment, causing light damage.

Bennett was cited for passing without the assured clear distance.

Board Appoints Weber To Sanitary Police Job

Benjamin Paul Weber of 914 Alton St. is expected to begin his duties as a sanitary police officer on Nov. 16, start of a new city payroll period, after being appointed Thursday night by the Board of Health to the $410-a-month post.

Weber's appointment fills the vacancy created by the sudden death of Gene Smith in August.

A four - year Navy veteran, Weber ranked third on a list certified by the Municipal Civil Service Commission following a test Oct. 11. His name was interpolated into the list as the result of a previous examination.

—:—

IN THE TEST held earlier this month, Kenneth L. Ibbs of 1200 Cora St. ranked first, with S. James Welch, 1008 St. John St., a former councilman, placing second.

Weber also will receive a $75-a-month car allowance.

Married and the father of two sons, Weber now is a route salesman for the Jewell Tea Co. He is active in the Calvary Methodist Church and is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Two of 19 milk samples taken during the period from Sept. 16 to yesterday were unsatisfactory, Jack Bonner, sanitarian, reported. He said a re-check of a milk sample from Cloverdale still was sub-standard, but that St. Clair Dairy was approved after a new sample was tested.

2 OSU Students Suggest Renaming Ohio Capital

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS (OR ERICSON), Ohio (AP)—If Columbus didn't discover America, this country may be in for a lot of name-dropping.

Already a couple of Ohio State University students want to put Ericson on the map by re-christening the Ohio capital named for the Italian discoverer who, it's now discovered, may not have discovered much.

"Think of all the employment it will be for map makers," said Gary S. Horowitz, a graduate student in history who's joined with R. Vladimir Steffel to circulate petitions proposing to re-name Columbus for Leif Ericson, a Norseman who's reported to have landed in America a long time before the Italian got adventurous.

The students say their campaign is catching on. But not at city hall.

"I think those students would be a lot better off if they would spend a little more time on their studies," said Columbus Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner. "You bet I'll fight to keep the name of Columbus."

William Hellerman, president of the Columbus Day U.S.A. Association, was less riled but no less determined.

"Let them have a little fun," he said of the students, But he added:

"I'm for keeping the name of Columbus. After all, we have all that stationery printed."

Word that Ericson may have beaten Columbus really isn't new. An encyclopedia printed several years ago says flatly: "Leif was one of the first men to visit the mainland of America."

What stirred the students, though, was word that Yale University had a map proving conclusively that Ericson "discovered" America about 600 years before Columbus.

Re-naming cities and streets and so on in the interest of historical accuracy could pose problems.

How, for instance, would you break the news to the sweet young thing recently named Miss Columbus of all the Miss Columbuses from all the American towns of that name?

Some companies, too, would have to be re-named—though Columbus Blank Book Co. and Columbus Buggy Parts Co. would still be blank book and buggy parts companies whether the city was called Columbus or Ericson of just Discoverer.

Changing signs, printing new letterheads and revising telephone listings, though, might start a bigger economic boom than the largest shot ever fired in the war on poverty.

Even if the name game could be won, monumental problems would remain.

4 Are Unhurt In 3 Mishaps

Four district residents escaped injury in three area highway mishaps Thursday — two on Dresden Ave. Ext. or County Rd. 447 — the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A 1964 convertible driven by Allen Leroy Rice, 22, of Wellsville R. D. 1, was struck from the rear by another car about one mile north of the city limits at 10:10 p. m.

Rice, headed north, was about to make a left turn when his car was struck from behind by a 1960 sedan operated by Jerry James Boyer, 27, of Salem R.D. 3. There was moderate damage to both vehicles, officers said.

Thomas Ray Shields, 19, of R.D. 2 was cited for reckless operation after a car he was driving veered off the highway about 1.5 miles north of the city, struck an embankment and overturned about noon.

Officers said Shields was headed north and shifted gears approaching a curve, lost control and the 1965 compact owned by Mike Turk, Inc., went off the road. There was moderate damage.

Shields and a passenger, David Carlisle, 21, of Calcutta, escaped injury.

Rosella Leasure, 45, of 5th Ave., LaCroft, was unhurt when a semi-trailer rig forced her 1963 compact off Route 30 near West Point late yesterday morning.

Officers said Eugene Bennett, 46, of Salem, driving a semi-trailer rig, passed her auto, but cut back to the lane too sharply, due to an oncoming auto, and she was forced off the road, her auto hitting an embankment, causing light damage.

Bennett was cited for passing without the assured clear distance.
